WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Toledo, O., May 16, 1892.

An area of high pressure is over the country east of the Mississippi river and suoth of the lakes. It has caused fair weather over the section it covers, and will dominate the weather over the northeast for two days.

There is a storm of considerable magnitude over the northwest which has caused cloudy and rainy weather over the west and northwest. It is very probable that this storm will advance to the eastward and cause cloudy and rainy weather and higher temperature.

The temperature has risen over the west and remained nearly stationary in all other sections.

A NARROW ESCAPE

The Steamer Thew Burned Off Chicago

And the Crew in Danger of Death.

Gallant Service Rendered by Sailors

Who Chanced to be Near the Scene.

Smoke and Flames Blind the Workmen and Twelve Lives are Saved With Difficulty.

Chicago, May 16.—(Special.)—"An excursion steamer, full of passengers, is on fire four miles off Jackson park. Send tugs. Notify the life saving station."

Such was the telephone message received at the tug offices in Chicago a little after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Hyde park police station.

The tug Wau-Bun, of the C. T. line, and the tug Bob Teed, of the Dunham line, were immediately dispatched to the scene, Capt. Robert Brown, of the latter, being instructed to stop at the life saving station and get Capt. St. Peter and his crew with their life boat.

Another telephone, from the Hyde Park Times, announced that the burning steamer was a freight boat and was between Hyde Park and South Chicago.

Smoke and flames could be plainly seen from Hyde Park, the World's fair grounds and all points along there, and there was great excitement and alarm. Numerous excursion steamers were known to be making trips on the lake and when the disaster became known throughout the city there was the greatest uneasiness, and, as usual, numerous rumors speedily magnified the occurrence into an awful catastrophe.

Capt. Gilson, of the excursion steamer Sailor Boy, sighted the burning craft soon after she took fire and made a run for her. The flames were burning fiercely, fanned by a stiff southwest wind. It proved to be the steamer W. P. Thew, of Cleveland, bound from South Chicago to Chicago, light.

Capt. Gilson had his own steamer and her load of passengers to look out for, but he was determined that no lives should be sacrificed if he could do anything toward saving them.

The master of the Thew, Capt. William Patterson, had her headed up to the wind in order to keep the flames aft as much as possible. The crew had fought the flames to the utmost, but had failed to make the slightest impression on the fire, and all hands, ten in number, were huddled together forward of the pilot-house, sheltering themselves as best they could from the flame, cinders, smoke and blistering heat.

The Sailor Boy was none too soon.

The Thew was all ablaze—seemed enveloped in flames, and the smoke covered the lake for miles. The engineers and firemen had been driven from the engine-room some time before, and were among the others forward of the pilot house.

The upper works were burned off, and the decks and rail on fire to amidships. The fire was eating into the hull astern, and the whole after part of the steamer was roaring and crackling in the constantly increasing wind.

The mizzen mast canvas and boom had disappeared. The smoke-stack was tottering and the fire was fast working forward to the poor refuge of the men who had formed the crew.

What made the situation worse was the fact that the wives of the captain and mate were on board, and were crouching here among the rest, terrified and fainting.

So sudden had the flames broken out that Capt. Robert Patterson and his crew had been taken completely by surprise. They had made heroic efforts to save the ship, not thinking of the importance of the small boat, and a few minutes later, when the emergency presented itself, boats could not be reached, and these means of escape were burned before their eyes.

Blinded by smoke and red and suffering from the heat, the crew and the two women were on the upper deck, with the pilot house between them and the flames, when the Sailor Boy rounded to.

By this time the after side of the pilot-house was burning, and five minutes later the men said they would have had to leap into the lake and take their chances of drowning in preference to burning to death.

Capt. Gilson asked if the crew wanted to leave the ship, and every one of them responded eagerly that he did. Boats were lowered, and nine of the men and the two women were soon on board of the Sailor Boy.

There was one man who refused to leave his ship. This was Capt. Patterson. It was urged to him that he could do no good by remaining, and that he would surely lose his life. All efforts proved unavailing and the Sailor Boy then moved away out of danger.

At this juncture the fireboat Chicago, Capt. Cowan, from South Chicago, came upon the scene, and commenced throwing water. The tugs Halliday and Elphicke and the life crew also came to the rescue from South Chicago and rendered excellent aid. A little later the tug Bob Teed and the Chicago life saving crew and also the tug Wau-Bun arrived.

Capt. Patterson had done the best he could under the circumstances, and even now did good work on board, though he had to lie prostrate much of the time to escape the intense heat and sparks.

The tugs threw water on the burning steamer for some time, and when the flames were partially checked the charred hulk, still throwing off volumes of smoke, with flames shooting out here and there, was taken in tow for Chicago.

The anchor was down, a precaution taken by the master when they lost control of the engines and were driven forward, and before help had come to them. It was impossible to raise it, and the tug was compelled to drag hulk and anchor, the Chicago and Wau-Bun throwing water all the while. In this way the procession reached Chicago at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the remains of what had been the fine, stanch W. P. Thew was landed in the slip near the life saving station.

"We were five miles off South Chicago, and it was about 12:45 when the fire broke out," said Capt. Patterson. The flames were first discovered in the fire hold. We used our own hose and fought it all we could, but it gained on us so rapidly that the engineers, firemen and all hands were soon driven forward. I had her headed up to the wind and cast anchor, which was about all we could do under the circumstances.

"I would not abandon my ship, no matter if I was certain I was to lose my life. You see now that by sticking to her I have saved what little there was left of her.

"At no time was she wholly abandoned —I was on board all the time—and no salvage claim will hold good against the hull. The tugs and steamers which came to us all did good work. The mate had hastily made a raft just before the Sailor Boy came to us, and in a few minutes more an attempt would have been made to launch it. My wife and the wife of the mate were on board and we were thinking more of them than of ourselves. The ladies had come aboard at South Chicago just for a short ride to the city."

The first engineer of the Thew was Mr. Lindaker, and the first mate Joseph Smith. No second mate was carried. The firemen are John McDonald and Charles Smith. The others of the crew were Jacob Ness, Tom Askins, Samuel Elkins and Henry Watts. All told there were 12 persons on board, including Capt. Patterson, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Smith.

STAGE COACH ROBBED.

The Messenger Died in Defense of His Property.

Redding, Cal., May 16.—A stage robbery and murder occurred near here Saturday night. The Redding and Shasta stage had reached the top of the long grade about five miles above Redding on the river road, when it was stopped by the same two highwaymen who stopped it Tuesday evening last.

Buck Montgomery, the messenger, was shot and killed.

The Wells Fargo boxes are supposed to contain rich treasure, some placing the estimate as high as $20,000.

POTTERY BURNED.

East Liverpool, O., May 16.—The California pottery, owned by McDevitt & Moore, of this city, was entirely destroyed by fire at an early hour Sunday.

This pottery manufactured Rockingham and yellow ware, and was located beyond the water service; hence the fire department was powerless to save the works. The loss is $30,000 in pottery and stock; insurance about $18,000.

UNITARIAN CHURCH.

Chicago, May 16.—Delegates to the great conference of the Unitarian church, which will be in session here for the remainder of the week, are beginning to arrive in large numbers and the conference gives promise of being the largest of the denomination ever held in this country.

BOUND FOR THE WEST.

Presbyterians Headed for Portland.

Six Hundred Ministers Put in a Day Among the Salt Lake Mormons.

Salt Lake, Utah, May 16.—Approximately 600 ministers, delegates to the Presbyterian general assembly, which convenes at Portland, May 19, arrived in the city yesterday.

During the day the visitors were extended every hospitality and courtesy that could be participated in by the ministers on the Sabbath. The churches were thrown open to them, and nine pulpits were occupied in the morning by visitors.

Among those who preached were: Rev. Mr. Greene, of New Jersey; N. P. White, of Mount Ayr, Pa.; W. H. Roberts, D.D., of Darby, Pa.; P. M. Patterson, of Chester, Pa.

In the afternoon nearly all attended the Mormon services at the tabernacle.

In the evening the visitors attended a meeting at the Salt Lake theater, where Rev. W. C. Roberts, of New York, and Dr. Mutchmore, of Philadelphia, delivered addresses.

To-day, after carriage drives to points of interest in this vicinity they will resume the journey to the Pacific coast.

The prevailing impression was that Dr. Mutchmore, of Philadelphia, will be elected moderator when the assembly convenes at Portland.

SWEPT BY A CYCLONE

Circleville, O., Suffers from a Storm.

Houses Unroofed and Much Damage Done.

Ohio Rivers Out of Their Banks and Farm Lands Under Water

Circleville, O., May 16.—A cyclone struck this place yesterday, unroofing the American strawboard works and Heffner Brothers & Co.'s meal mill. The south end of the tile works was blown in and a big section of the Scioto machine works roof was torn off and carried across the canal, where it struck a brick smokestack belonging to Weldon & Co.'s elevator, completely demolishing it.

Several churches were badly damaged while services were being conducted. The electric wires throughout the city were badly damaged and the streets were strewn with shattered and uprooted trees to such an extent as to impede travel.

Much apprehension is felt in the upper Wabash valley about the Celina reservoir, the largest artificial body of water in the world, which is reported to be full.

The St. Marys river is out of its banks, the bottom lands are inundated, and crops are destroyed.

All the smaller streams are out of their banks.

The St. Marys reservoir is also dangerously high.

STORED AWAY IN VAULTS

Are the Castaway Robes of the Queen,

While Thousands of People Live in Ireland with Not Enough to Clothe Them

London, May 16.—A leading society paper publishes, on what it calls good authority, a story to the effect that in the vaults of Windsor Castle are stored away over one hundred large trunks, which contain all the dress and robes the queen has ever worn and discarded.

Not a dress that has ever gone on her back, it is claimed, has ever been sold or given away. Not only are those used for her coronation, her bridal and her affairs of state packed carefully away in these chests, but even the homely gowns for everyday use are preserved, even after their wearer has forgotten their existence.

DROWNED WHILE BOATING.

Fatal Accident to a Detroit Yachting Party.

Detroit, May 16.—Sunday afternoon John Birg, Adolph Nebel and two brothers named Frank and August Biehler, all ship carpenters by trade, went for a ride in a sail boat in the Detroit river.

When the boat was in the American channel, midway between the shore and Belle Isle, a gust of wind swamped the craft.

Adolph Nebel sank and nothing was seen of him after he went down.

Birg struck out for the shore a half mile distant, but before he had gone far he became exhausted and sank also.

The Biehler brothers clung to the overturned boat and were rescued in an exhausted condition by the steamer Golden Eagle.

One of the drowned men is a bachelor and leaves a widowed mother, and the other a wife and several children.

SELECTING A MAYOR.

A Warm Contest in Upper Sandusky.

Republicans Hold the Key to the Situation and Will Name the Man.

Upper Sandusky, O., May 16.—(Special) —The death of Mayor Myers has brought on a warm contest for the vacated position. The appointment will be made by the council, which is, for the first time in the history of the town, a tie politically, there being four democratic members and four republican. The republican members have a great opportunity, the chance of giving the city a republican mayor—something that would be regarded a wonder here—but they have decided, in view of the fact that the deceased mayor was a democrat, to not take any advantage, but allow the democrats the office, they, however, to have a voice in the selection. The woods are full of candidates and the council held a secret caucus Saturday night to consider the matter.

Ballots were taken on Judge Gibson, D. L. Ingard, Charles Matthews, Judge Clayton, W. R. Hare, Enoch Bare, Jonathan Moffett and others, but none obtained a sufficient number of votes to elect.

To-night the matter will come up openly and a parrot and monkey time is expected. The reuplican members are reported to be united on Matthews.

EX-PRISONERS OF WAR.

Illinois Members Hold Their Annual Round-Up in Chicago.

Chicago, May 16.—The annual round-up of the Illinois members of the National Association of Union Ex-Prisoners of War takes place at Libby prison this afternoon and evening, and quite a number of old veterans from outside points are in the city as invited guests.

After the afternoon proceedings an old-time camp-fire and supper is to be given by the survivors of Libby, and the talking will be done by Gen. W. H. Powell, of Ohio, the noted Chaplain McCabe, and Miss Ada C. Sweet, formerly pension agent in this city.

GATHERED IN CHICAGO,

Boston, May 16.—(Special)—The annual convention of the Horse Shoers' association of the United states opened here this afternoon with Thomas Griffin, of Chicago, presiding.

Quite a number of delegates were here from points in Canada, and it is proposed to change the name of the organization to the International Horse Shoers' union. Fifty-four unions are represented, and it is a peculiar feature of the constitution that only one union is allowed in each city. One of the most important subjects on the program for definite action is the adoption of a nine-hour day.

CONTRACT LABOR.

Government Officials Have Got Into Trouble.

New York, May 16.—Over two hundred steerage passengers on the French steamer La Gascogne have been detained on suspicion of being contract laborers.

It is alleged that a number of government employes at Ellis Island, together with employes of the various steamship lines, are working in collusion to defeat the operation of the contract labor law.

"We have begun an investigation," said Assistant Superintendent of Immigration Obeirne, "which may end in the dismissal of some of the government employes who are trying to make money on the outside.

"It has come to our knowledge that there is an organized system of diverting immigration to certain localities where laborers are needed and that the parties engaged in the business are receiving a commission for sending immigrants to those places."

AN AMERICAN SABBATH.

Methodists Discuss it at Omaha.

Strong Attack Made on the Proposition for an Open Sunday at the Fair.

Omaha, May 16.—Probably the largest concourse of people that ever attended a religous meeting in Omaha, attended the mass meeting in Exposition hall Sunday afternoon.

The special theme of the meeting was the American Sabbath, and Col. Eliott F. Shepard of New York, Bishop Warren, Bishop Ninde, Judge Lawrence of Ohio, and other eloquent speakers addressed the audience. An overflow meeting was held in the First Baptist church.

Bishop Newman presided at the hall and Chaplain McCabe led the singing. Mr. J. H. Knowles, secretary of American Sabbath union, read a report of the work of the union, and was followed by Col. Eliott F. Shepard. He read the Ten Commandments aid confined his remarks to the necessity of having one day in seven for rest. The proper observance of the Sabbath, he held, would keep people out of crime. He said that the United States was a religious nation and that work not absolutely necessary should be suspended on the Sabbath. He was heartily applauded.

Bishop Warren followed in a very eloquent speech that seemed to capture the Methodist hearts before him. He held that law was the best condition of existence and that when a nation fell out with the idea of the regulation of law there was danger in the immediate future. God had said that one day in seven should be set aside for rest and human law should correspond with the laws of God.

Judge Lawrence maintained that it was the duty of the state to provide that all unnecessary work should be discontinued on Sunday, so the churches might have a chance to draw the people to church.

Hon. J. T. Edwards, state senator of New York, made a brief address in which he stated that James G. Blaine was in favor of closing the centennial exposition on Sunday and had telegraphed that statement from Paris when consulted about the matter by the board. Mr. Edwards thought the American people had better quit singing the patriotic song "America" if the world's fair was kept open Sunday. It would be inconsistent, he thought, singing that song and at the same time breaking the commandment to keep the Sabbath holy.

Dr. Carman, the fraternal delegate from Canada, made a telling speech, in which he said that the church people of Canada were with the people of the United States in this effort to keep the Sabbath day from being disregarded.

Bishop Ninde amde the speech of the day. He held that there was little use to expect the people to keep the Sabbath day holy until the church had won the masses to Christianity. He wanted to see the ministers get hold of the masses. There were people who made light of popular preachers, but he was ready at all times to take off his hat to the man who could draw the masses to hear the word of God. The church should go after the millions, no matter what their condition was. The churches of the present day had gotten into the habit of shifting along to keep up with the rich, instead of going after the masses everwhere and under all circumstances. He believed that if the churches would take hold in earnest and work for the salvation and conversion of every rank and class of humanity, the great Sabbath question would soon solve itself. The bishop aroused tremendous enthusiasm and set several brethren in the conference to shouting for more of the Holy Ghost religion.

The weather was delightful and the attendance at all the churches was such as to crowd every house of worship and many were obliged to go home without getting into the churches at all.

SCHEDULE WAS CHANGED

And One Train Crashed Into Another.

Frightful Collision on the Big Four Results in the Loss of Five Lives.

Cincinnati, May 16.—A frightful collision occurred on the Big Four road near Cleves Sunday, resulting in the death of five persons and the injury of twelve or fifteen.

The regular Sunday accommodation, which leaves Aurora for Cincinnati at 8:30 a. m., started at 7:30 instead, owing to a change in the schedule which went into effect Sunday.

The train consisted of a combination baggage car, a smoking car and three coaches. When near Cleves the engineer of the passenger engine saw a freight train approaching, but too late to prevent a collision.

The freight crew had forgotten about the change in the schedule and supposed the track was clear. The two engines came together with a terrific crash. The killed are:

W. O. Edwards, freight engineer, Greensburg, Ind.
Wm Higgs, passenger engineer, Lawrenceburg, Ind.
David Heywood, freight conductor, Indianapolis.
Hiram Bruce, freight fireman, Greensburg.
Philip Gribben, baggagemaster, Lawrenceburg.

Injured:
John Schroeder, passenger conductor, Lawrenceburg.
Holton Terrell, Lawrenceburg.
C. M. Ritchie, Shelbyville.
Tim Keefe, freight brakeman, Lawrenceburg.
Ed Bass, Chattanooga.
F. O. Connelly.
Will Cromar, passenger brakeman.
Lillie Reading, Aurora, Ind.
Mrs. Moreland, North Bend, little girl.
Geo. W. Hubler, Miamisburg.

Mr. Hubler is a traveling salesman for the McCormick Reaper Manufacturing company. He was brought to the Cincinnati hospital.

A STRIKE SETTLED.

Cleveland, May 16.—The Cleveland street car men have gone back to work on a compromise.

By the terms of the compromise they are to work but 10 hours a day, motormen to receive 18 cents an hour and conductors 17 cents, and for over-time 20 and 19 cents an hour will be paid for motormen and conductors respectively. Three leaders in the strike who had been discharged are to be reinstated. The men regard it as a victory.

SHAKEN BY A CYCLONE.

Considerable Damage to Buildings at Corry, Pa., by High Winds.

Corry, Pa., May 16.—At 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon a cyclone struck the business part of the city on North Center street, covering a strip 200 feet wide. At Dunham & Ford's lumber yard piles of lumber and timber were leveled to the ground in an instant.

The tin roofs on Stennet's and Morgaridge's three-story buildings were completely stripped off and carried 500 feet.

The new Week's opera house, a brick building 50 feet high, in which the Universalists were holding Sunday service, and crowded with people was the next to be met. It waved and creaked fearfully, causing a panic. It stood the strain, but is now out of line eight inches and is badly cracked. Further east was Col. Edwards' Katonka factory, a large wooden building.

It was struck broadside, throwing the building to the east from one to two feet. Considerable other damage was done by blowing down small buildings. The cyclone was accompanied by a light fall of rain and a heavy roaring sound lasting only two or three minutes.

ANOTHER MARSHAL SHOT.

Gillette, Wyo., May 16.—Reports reached here yesterday that Deputy United States Marshal Gibson was shot and severely wounded on the Powder river, the the ball passing through the shoulders.

Gibson was one of the men deputized for the serving of the injunctions restraining the small stock and ranchmen from holding a round-up of their own.

THANKS, WILLIAM.

London, May 16.—A beautiful illuminated and engrossed address was to-day forwarded to the emperor of Germany on behalf of Oxford university in response to the telegram sent by the emperor on the occasion of the recent Oxford-Cambridge race conveying his congratulations to the winning crew.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Wapakoneta, O., May 16.—(Special)— While attending the dedication of the Catholic church at Sidney, Calvin Carter, aged 17 years, was accidentally shot by a companion, receiving a very dangerous wound. He was brought here, and cannot recover. The bullet has not yet been located.

THE DANGER IS OVER

The Big Rivers are on the Down Turn.

Only Additional Rain Fall Will Cause

Trouble to the People Along the Valleys—Latest Dispatches from the Flooded Districts.

St. Louis, May 16.—The Missouri river has reached its height at Kansas City and Horman, Mo., and is now slowly falling. The crest of the flood is about twenty miles from th emouth of the Missouri river and is slowly making its way towards this city. It will reach St. Louis to-night and to-morrow the Mississippi is expected to begin falling at this point. In the meantime the rise here will not exceed two inches.

The river here now registers 35 feet, which is 2.10 feet higher than the crest of the flood in 1883.

All the levees and embankments between this city and the mouth of the Missouri are intact and unless an expected strain occurs will be able to withstand the rush of the flood.

Relief boats are busily engaged in rescuing people from islands that are covered with water and carrying them to places of safety. So far but two fatalities are reported and these were the results of foolhardy attempts to swim across the river.

Situation in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., May 16.—The continued rains of the last week have caused great damage to all railroads in this section. The most severe rain and wind storm of the season visited this city and vicinity at an early hour yesterday morning and continued until after daylight.

The Arkansas river took a fresh start yesterday and is rising rapidly. Trains on the northern branch of the Iron Mountain road have been abandoned for the present. No passenger or mail trains from St. Louis and the north have arrived here since Friday.

The "Cannonball" from St. Louis, due here Saturday morning, had to turn back at Bismarck, Mo., Saturday night. An attempt will be made to come through to-night via Charleston and Memphis.

IN INDIANA.

Columbus, Ind., May 16.—Not in twenty years has this part of the state suffered so much from continuous rains. There has not been within the last 60 days twenty-four hours of settled weather. Rain has fallen in great quantities and all the streams are out of their banks and doing great damage, aside from delaying the farmers in putting in their crops.

HENRY COUNTY GOSSIP.

Farmers Discouraged at the Outlook—A Man on a Tear.

Napoleon, O., May 16.—(Special)—Wm. Allerton, of Ridgeville, came to Napoleon Saturday and after loading himself with the goods of Bacchus, pulled a gun of 48-caliber and announced a desire to fill his private graveyard from Napoleon's peaceful subjects. Before he had fairly got launched on this pleasantry, Marshal Burns effected his capture and Mayor Meekison finished the would-be desperado's downfall by tapping him for $20 and costs —all he had—with the provision if not paid to work it out in Toledo's stoneyard. He paid.

The rains Henry county has been having have totally discouraged the farmers. Many bottom lands of wheat have been destroyed and it is an impossibility to get in any corn. If favorable weather does not soon set in the outlook is very poor for a crop of anything. Even our gravel roads which have heretofore withstood the worst of weather, are almost impassable.

ASSOCIATION OF PROOF READERS

London, May 16.—The London Association of Correctors of the Press, better known as proof readers in the United States, have appointed a committee to communicate with proof readers in America with the view to organization of an international association for fraternal purposes. The home association which has been in existence for some years makes provision for aiding readers out of employment and in time of sickness.

MET AT A CURVE.

Creston, Ia., May 16.—A bad wreck occurred yesterday a few miles east of Red Oak, on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. Two trains came together at a curve, instantly killing engineer Charles Connell and seriously injuring brakeman Maine and conductor Farrell. Six box cars were totally wrecked, as were also both engines and the baggage car of the passenger train.

A FATAL JUMP.

Niles, O., May 16.—John Welch, aged 21 years, son of John Welch, of South Niles, was fatally injured by jumping from a fast running freight on the P., Y. & A.

HAMNA SAINO MUST DIE

She Will Have Her Head Cut Off

And Then Her Body Will be Burned.

The First Woman to Die in This Manner in Russia—Her Crime Was Cold-Blooded

London, May 16.—Advices from St. Petersburg say that the petition for the modification of the sentence of death passed upon Mrs. Hamna Saino, upon conviction of causing the death of her husband, a professor at the State college at Tevastehus, has been refused and the sentence will be carried into effect in a few days.

The woman is first to be beheaded and her body burned afterwards. She is only 22 years of age and remarkably handsome. She has been married to her husband, who was eight years her senior, for two years.

Needing funds on account of an outside love affair she forged his name to a check for a large amount, and when called to account placed in a cup of coffee of which he partook enough poison to kill half a dozen people.

WOMAN'S CLUBS.

Close of the Biennial Convention in Chicago.

Chicago, May 16.—The convention of the Federation of Woman's Clubs, which has been in session here for several days, is a notable gathering. The session began on Tuesday last, closing on Friday, and the meeting was one of the most important of recent times in the cause of women.

It is not a suffrage movement, the topics discussed being literary, philanthropic, and educational. Among some of the women present were: Miss Frances E. Willard, representing the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. Mary A. Davis, New York, National Free Baptist Woman's Society; Mrs. M. R. M. Wallace, Chicago, Illinois Industrial Reform School for Girls (national charter); Mrs. Emiline B. Wells, Salt Lake City, National Woman's Relief society; Rev Amanda Deyo, Providence, R. I., Universal Peace Union; Susan B. Anthony, National American Woman Suffrage association; Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, Washington, Woman's National Press association; Mrs. Emily Sherwood, Washington; Rev. Annie M. Shaw, Wimodaughsis; Dr. Jennie M. Lozier, New York, Sorosis; Mrs. Kimball, Salt Lake City, Young Ladies' National Mutual Improvement association; Mrs. E. B. Grannis, New York, Christian League.

The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Brown; first vice president, Mrs. Julia Plato Harvey, of Chicago; recording secretary, Mrs. J. C. Croly (Jennie June), New York; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary B. Temple, Tennessee; treasurer, Mrs. Jane O. Cooper, Colorado; auditor, Mrs. H. H. Robinson, board of directors, the officers of the federation and Miss Lilla M. Ketchum, Mrs. E. C. Sterling, Miss May Rogers, Mrs. Fannie P. Palmer, Mrs. Mary E. Mumford, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Miss Catherine Nobles, Mrs. Lyndon W. Bates, Miss Octavia W. Bates.

The next convention will be held in 1894.

There was a pleasant break in the program of the closing day when Miss Susan B. Anthony presented a handsome basket of roses to Mrs. Perkins, of Cleveland, as a mark of appreciation from the reporters and members of the press associations among the delegates. Miss Anthony said some nice things about the newspapers in making the presentation, and Mrs. Perkins more nice things in accepting the flowers.

TOOK AN AWFUL MEANS

Of Getting Out of a World of Trouble.

A Woman Deliberately Allows Train to Run Over Her Body.

Rochester, N. H., May 16.—The engineer of the Sunday morning milk train as it was approaching this station yesterday saw a woman lying across the track. He gave a warning whistle, but her only response was to raise her head and deliberately place her neck on one of the rails. The engine and tender passed over her, severing the head from the body. The suicide was Mrs. Thomas Dovning. Domestic trouble probably drove her to commit suicide.

NEARING THE MEN.

The Entombed Anaconda Miners Still Alive.

Butte, Mont., May 16.—A search party in the Anaconda mine yesterday heard voices of the three of the imprisoned miners. The men were engaged in conversation, but their words could not be distinguished, nor could intelligible answers be obtained from them. Efforts at rescue have been redoubled.

A LAWYER IN TROUBLE.

Philadelphia, May 16.—It is probable, if not certain, that Hon. Lewis H. James, of Doylestown, hitherto one of the best konwn lawyers in this section of the state, will be disbarred as a result of the charge of malfeasance of official duties and breaches of trust, as well as of fraud in his conduct in office, which have been brought against him. So far fifteen such charges have been submitted before Commissioner Eastburne. The most serious are for the sale of mortgages which had been satisfied.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Columbus, O., May 16.—Clinton Victor, an employe of the Columbus Transfer company, was killed by a Pan Handle train at Big Walnut about 6 a. m. yesterday. His presence in that locality is unaccounted for, as he worked all day yesterday. He leaves a wife and one child.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Warner's Institute in Brooklyn Burned.

Heavy Damage Caused by a Conflagration in the East.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 16.—Warner's institute, Broadway and Willoughby avenue, was wholly destroyed by fire this morning. The building had been recently fitted up by the Zoelner mannerchoir, a German singing society, which owns the premises. The loss will reach $150,000.

Besides the singing society there were located in the building several stores and a branch of the postoffice. The mail matter, which had been accumulating since Saturday night, and included two large Irish and German mails, was nearly all destroyed. Newby & Evans, dealers in pianos, had their stock nearly destroyed.

Charles Richter loses $10,000 worth of furniture and personal effects. Two young men named Carl Nedszo and John Kutsky, employed in the institute building, are missing, and it is believed they were burned to death. The origin of the fire is unknown.

DINNA YE HEAR THE SLOGAN?

MAYOR EMMICK SCORED

Sunday Base Ball Emphatically Sat Upon.

The Guilty Officials Given a Tongue Lashing

By City Pastors from the Pulpit Yesterday—Views of Some of Them Boiled Down That They Who Run May Read.

Many of the city pastors took for their subject yesterday the question of Sunday base ball and Sunday desecration. The sermons were, of course, against official recognition of any of these methods which have lately grown up in Toledo and elsewhere. Mayor Emmick and the police commissioners received their share of attention, and if the ears of these gentlemen did not ring at times yesterday, there is no truth in the old saying that such a sensation follows when people are being talked about.

Knowing the interest the citizens have had in these sermons, because of the discussion caused by the action of the Pastors' union and the call upon the mayor during the week, the Bee's staff attended some of the churches for the purpose of gathering a summary of the sermons, and the result follows.

DANGER AHEAD,

Or Last Sunday's Scenes in Toledo, as Viewed by Rev. Fish.

At the morning service at St. John's M. E. church, Rev. Dr. Fish took for his text Exodus 20: 13, "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." After stating that work is an absolute necessity, and giving many reasons for it, he regarded that it was also absolutely essential that all should rest. He discussed these two propositions from various standpoints, and then coming directly to the matters complained of as to last Sunday, spoke substantially as follows:

And now I close the Bible, and, if you will, you may close the church, and we will lift this whole question above the range of theological discussion. I have tried to show you that this rest day law is grounded in the constitution of things, and operates, whether we be Christians or unbelievers, in the whole vast creation; that there must be rest for the iron, and for the earth, for the fishes of the sea and for the animals of the land, for the whole wonderful being of man, his lungs, his heart, his brain, his skin, his muscles, and all his physical powers; rest for his mental and rest for his spiritual being, and that this rest law has inclosed every living power within its operations, from the smallest worm that crawls upon the ground to the infinite ruler himself. I close the Bible, therefore, and say further that the scenes of last Sabbath in this city call for the sounding of an alarm. There is danger ahead. Let me point it out to you. Here are six propositions of irrefutable truth:

1. The failure of multitudes of laboring people to take the rest which the law gives them, will in time cause greedy employers to think the working classes can get along without any rest, and eventually they will seize it from them. There is an old struggle going on in the world. It is not so much the conflict between capital and labor, as it is a struggle for the poor to get bread. Six days' hard toil are needed and yet the poor man lives scanty. What shall it be as the conflict deepens, and the acreage of the earth, with its wornout soil, fails to provide for its fast increasing millions of eaters, and the greed of those who love riches, has strengthened with their accumulation? Alas, for the poor man, having let his rest day slip from his grasp, he will be compelled to work seven days in the week in order to live seven days, and the degeneracy of his impoverished blood and of his undeveloped nature will sink him low in the scale of humanity. O, laboring man, cling to the Sabbath, for it was made for you.

2. The unrestrained violation of any wise statutory law threatens the overthrow of all law. If some may defy laws which they do not like, others may reject laws which they do not choose to obey, and anarchy, which makes every man a law unto himself, will result.

3. The wholesale disregard of law by great multitudes makes law valueless when needed. I saw a man and five children going to the base ball grounds last Sabbath. That man needs the protection of the law for his family. For his boys against those who would ruin them, soul and body, if law did not hold them in check, and for his daughters against the animalized libertine who would debauch them if he were not under the terror of the law's penalties; but if the law is broken down where will he get it? I saw a man of wealth going also. If any person in the world needs law in these times of unrest it is he, but if he himself disregards law until it is broken down, how can he hope for its protection when his property is threatened and his rights invaded.

4. The neglect of sworn officers to enforce laws, renders oaths meaningless and testimony unreliable. If a policeman or constable makes no arrests when the law is openly violated, what is his oath worth? If his oath as an officer is merely a form, what will it become with the witness whom he brings in to give sworn testimony? It does not answer to say, "Public sentiment is not up to the enforcement of this law," nor to say, "If these persons who violate this law were not doing so, they might be engaged in doing something much worse." The question is, and we cannot turn from it, What is that officer's oath worth? Nothing, except where he chooses to keep it. When the solemnity of an oath is broken down truth has lost a safeguard.

5. Official disregard of law is the parent of lynch law. What causes an enraged populace to take the law in their own hands to enforce it? Hear me. The fear that the officers will not do so. I have read that searching charge of Judge Johnson to the grand jury of Hancock county, in which he presses upon them their sworn duty to find out, if possible, who did the lynching of Joseph Lytle. I trembled at the thought of what might come of such a finding. It seemed like an impartial respect for the law that a judge should talk in that way. But, after all, it seemed also like a farce in the face of the fact that human blood had frequently been shed, but never a murderer hung in Hancock county.

6. The breaking of God's laws causes Him to leave people and nations to themselves, and when he does so their downfall becomes a certainty. I am not going to open the Bible. I simply pick it up and say to you that the laws of this book without commentator and without theological discussion, whenever understood, will always be found in harmony with that other great book of God, the volume of nature. His law are underground, written in wisdom, and if they had never been touched by printers' ink or scribe's pen they had stood as sure as the everlasting hills nevertheless. It was not his writing made law, for law existed before he had it written. Without a Bible, Babylon, Assyria and Rome went down. With a Bible slaves' shackles have been broken, and Christian humanities have been inaugurated. But, with or without a Bible law has stood upon eternal pillars, and to violate it is to bring ourselves within its relentless grasp. God as the universal governor cannot be insulted with impunity.

PUSILLANIMOUS OFFICIALS

Is the Way Rev. E. W. Hunt Styles Toledo's Governing Power.

At the Ashland Avenue Baptist church yesterday Rev. E. W. Hunt preached a powerful sermon on Sunday observance, and he handled the question without gloves. He did not hesitate to place the blame [illegible] violation of law where it belongs, and the city officials and the mayor in particular came in for an unmerciful scoring.

Rev. Hunt took his text from Mark in the words, "The Sabbath was made for man," and in his discourse he showed that this declaration meant that the Sabbath was made for the best interests of all mankind, and that it should be observed in a manner to serve the most.

In treating of his topic he divided it into two parts—one, the religious question, and the other the social and civil side of the question.

The former was first taken up, and he told how God created in man a need of a Sabbath when the first man was made, and afterwards this Sabbath was transcribed into law in the ten commandments.

"The day was not made for our mere gratification or amusement," said he, "but it should be used as will be best for the whole sphere of human nature, the body, the soul and the mind. Neither should we make a selfish use for it, but we should use it so as to guard it for others. It is with the poorest possible grace that a Christian can object to mere physical recreation on this day when he is making the same use of it in some other way. Neither should we simply rely on the Ten Commandments for arbitrary rules as to the use of the day, but must discriminate and be able to tell the right from the wrong. It is a very thoughtless Christian who will needlessly engage in any business or recreation on the Sabbath that will compel any man to work."

"Now as to the other side, the social and civil, the relation of civil law to the question. Society has seen the need of the day, and has made laws and imposed penalties for doing certain things on that day. This is simply to protect the day. But in the past 25 years more has been done than ever before to break down this day.

"Some of these appeals come home very strongly. I can feel the necessity of a day of physical recreation in the week and when that plea is put forth on behalf of those who do hard drudging and monotonous work all the rest of the week it comes to me powerfully. But many of the pleas are put forth by those who are financially interested in some scheme and the poor workingman is made to take up many arguments that he never thought of."

In this connection he spoke of the World's Fair and strongly opposed the opening of that institution on Sunday, not only because many men in its departments would be obliged to work, but because of the example it would set. He spoke of the record the English speaking people have made in the Paris and Vienna expositions and hoped that it would not be broken by this exposition at home.

He then took up the matter of Sunday base ball and spoke powerfully against it. "To protect those who need the day the most," said he, "there is another question closer home. On the statute laws of our state base ball has been singled out for especial honor and it is promised that this game shall not be played on Sunday. This is also recognized in our city ordinances. Any one would think that when a law is violated it would be done quietly and without ostentation, but on last Sunday 5,000 people of this city assembled to play and see a game of ball. What was the result? Were these people all arrested and fined? Indeed they were not, and strange to say the mayor of the city, who has been sworn to uphold its laws, approves of it, and stranger still, he gives as his reason that the two hours these people spent at the ball game they were kept out of the saloons, which he has taken a solemn oath to close.

"It seems to me that one who has been put in such a position by the people of a city, set over us to protect the city and defend our laws, would not dare to deliberately and publicly say that a law shall be broken. But the funniest thing of all is that the poor workingman is given as the reason, but you have not heard any of the workingmen's societies declare in favor of base ball on the Sabbath. It is a wonder that when all these people, the mayor and the base ball people and others are carefully looking after the workingman, he does not fare better. Instead of the Sabbath being made for man, one would think that it was made for the saloon keepers, the mayor and the base ball players.

"It is not pleasant for me to say all this, because these people are not here, but I believe that it is time that something is done. We can't blame the poor, cowardly officials, for they simply reflect the sentiment that is nearest to them. That is what they were put there for, and these weak men are the only ones that would take those places.

"You don't want me to enter into a crusade of this matter, but it seems to me that somebody ought to. It is our duty to raise our hands and see that decency prevails in our city, and that our laws are obeyed. It is not only the duty of the preachers to take up this matter, for the strength of a pastor is only that of the men who are behind him. The laymen should take this up, and you should not shrink from such work as this. It is your duty not only to keep the day sacredly and conscientiously, but it is your duty to protect it and see that others can enjoy it. You are the ones who can stiffen the backs of pusillanimous officials and frighten them into enforcing the laws as they are sworn to do.

"Of what use is it for us to try to lead young men aright when every other influence is used to turn them wrong? 'The Sabbath was made for man,' let us see that he gets it, and let us see that simple greed for money does not put a stumbling block in our way; or in the way of officials whose duty it is to enforce the laws."

IS IT POSSIBLE

There Are Accommodations for 7,000 People in Saloons on Sunday? Asks Rector Hopkins.

"If Mayor Emmick persists in saying he won't or can't stop Sunday base ball," said Rev. W. C. Hopkins at Grace Episcopal church yesterday morning, "and the people of Toledo allow him to persist in such a course, then they don't know their power. It is shameful that the mayor, from reason of his education or his nation's customs, should adopt such a course after he has taken an oath before Almighty God to enforce the laws.

"At such a rate it will not be long before anarchists will be throwing bombs in the streets of Toledo and the mayor and the president of the ball club will show them how to do it, by teaching the disreputable class how to disobey the laws of the land.

"I have heard that the mayor says Sunday ball will keep our boys out of the saloon. Last Sunday 7,000 people attended the ball game. Do we understand Mayor Emmick to say the saloons are open wide enough on Sundays to accommodate 7,000 people? What we want in this city is some one man whose duty it will be to enforce the law. We lack such a person at present. Then we ought to have a body of fifty citizens who could impeach him and turn him out of office when he fails to do his duty.

"It is a too common practice for our city officials to draw their salary and then utterly disregard their duties.

"A few capitalists say, 'If Sunday ball is stopped we will lose $5,000 invested.' Rather lose $5,000 in a law-breaking institution than lose $1,000,000 worth of Christian conscience and morality. I don't desire that Sunday should be a day of gloom, by any means. It should be a day of cheerfulness, happiness and mercy—a sweet, calm, holy day. Not a day to help the street car people."

READS THE LAW

Does Pastor Buckingham at Eleventh Street Church of Christ.

The subject of Rev. T. S. Buckingham's sermon last night at the Eleventh Street Christian church was "The Bible and Sunday Base Ball." The sermon contained many strong points. He took for his text "The Sabbath was made for man, and man was not made for the Sabbath." W. H. Seward, one of our ablest political philosophers, said: "The whole hope of human progress is suspended on the ever-growing influence of the Bible." Daniel Webster applied the same thought to our country when he said: "If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; but if we and our posterity neglect them, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us." The Sabbath was given to man as an ever-abiding institution. The Sabbath was observed before the giving of the ten commandments. The idea was not worship, but rest, pure and simple.

God sanctified the day. The Sabbath was a day given to man, not a day taken from him. It is an assured fact that man can do more work in six days than he can in seven. I now want you to listen to an opinion in regard to Sunday base ball playing. Is it for the cultivation of sport or of manhood? I would not say a word against physical culture or of anything that would tend to bring the body to the highest pitch of excellency, but what I should preach against is the desecration of the Sabbath or God's day. The base ballists read thus: "The Sabbath was not made for man. The Sabbath was made for money." What is the law as regards Sunday games?

Section 7032a of the revised statutes of Ohio provides that "whoever on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, participates in, or exhibits to the public, with or without charge of admittance, in any building, room, ground, garden or other place in this state, any theatrical or dramatic performance of any kind or description, or any base ball playing, he or she shall, on complaint made within twenty days thereafter, be fined in any sum not exceeding $100, or be confined in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Alas, that the court has this discretion. The law also provides that the mayor and the police commissioners shall take an oath to support the constitution of the United States and of this state, to obey the laws, and to honestly, faithfully and impartially perform the duties of their respective offices. And yet our mayor, the chief magistrate of the people, says he is not opposed to Sunday base ball, but rather in favor of it. When the people elect such people to office, it rather shakes one's faith in the prosperity of the country.

WOULD IMPEACH OFFICERS

Who Did Not Do Their Duty—Serious Charges Made by Elder McDonald.

At the Bartlett street church, Sunday morning, Rev. J. L. McDonald preached an able sermon—not against base ball; he said he was not waging war on base ball or people who enjoyed it. If a man can get 50 cents' worth of satisfaction out of seeing other men toss a ball around, he had no objection to offer; but he protested against the violation of the laws of Ohio, and of the city ordinances. He did not intend to turn the pulpit of his church into a rostrum for discussion of events of the day; but he did intend that it should be a battery from which should be hurled volleys to shatter the bulwarks of iniquity.

Mr. McDonald attacked the Sunday base ball question from a legal standpoint, entirely, and quoted the statutes relating to the Sunday laws. It is notorious that American cities are the worst governed in the world. The laws are trodden under foot without the interference of the police. Offices throughout the country are prostituted to corrupt uses. Mr. McDonald does not believe that there is a single house of doubtful character in Toledo, or place where illegal business is done, that is not known to the police. Why are these places not raided and closed? Because for every dollar the city government pays the officials for clearing out these dens of infamy, the violators pay them two for keeping silent.

The laws of the city are good. The whole blame lies with the administration. It is presumable that the city officials know what these laws are. They have taken an oath to enforce them and have, instead, been participators in the crimes committed. The night after the mayor took his office, more than seventy arrests were made. The mayor understood the law then; now he says he does not believe in taking all the enjoyment away from the laboring man.

The speaker sarcastically asked if Sunday base ball was all the enjoyment the laboring man had. He scored the mayor unmercifully for his cowardly evasion of duty and said: "If we put men in office who won't execute the laws, we should put them out again; and if we can't stand them until their term of office expires, we can impeach them." The mantle of Elijah had not fallen on him, but he prophesied that if these violations of the laws of God and man were unrebuked, the result would be anarchy and the destruction of city and state and country. The sentiment of the best people is for the observance of law and order. Let us march around these walls of iniquity and make a loud noise, and persevere until they fall.

SHEER NONSENSE.

The Excuse Offered for Sunday Ball—So Says Rev. E. E. Williams.

Rev. E. E. Williams spoke at the Memorial Baptist church last night on the evil effects of Sunday base ball. He spoke of the manager's argument in its favor, that without the Sunday game there was no money in base ball, and said this excuse might be made for every kind of wrong doing. The gambler or rum seller might with as good reason, make the same excuse. And of the mayor's argument that it was a good advertisement for the city, he said: What kind of an advertisement is Sunday base ball for any city? It is an advertisement of the fact that the people of that city have not character enough to enforce its laws and punish violations. The argument that Sunday games are under police discipline is simply rediculous. The idea that the officers of the law, whose business it is to arrest all violators should supervise one of the violations. The strongest argument made in favor of Sunday ball is the one that it gives enjoyment to the laboring man. Will the honest laboring man say that Sunday ball is his highest enjoyment? No. Sunday amusements mean increased Sunday labor, and the workingman is but investing his shekels in wishing and working for the abolishment of the Sabbath. The argument that it keeps the young man out of the saloons the mayor is supposed to keep closed, is sheer nonsense. The crowd of saloon men return to the saloons from the ball grounds with reinforcements. All the arguments used in favor of Sunday ball are as useless as the paper they are written on. Sunday base ball is useless. It has no purpose; it never has nor never will accomplish anything for the benefit of humanity. Its tendencies are bad; its influences are bad, and it is a crime and a shame. We must let our officials know that we intend that our laws shall be obeyed. We must agitate the question and the voters can protest most effectively at the polls against filling the offices of city government with men who neither respect the laws nor the oaths they have taken to enforce them.

PASTOR BETHARDS

Throws Out a Few Characteristic Suggestions at Broadway M. E. Church.

Rev. J. H. Bethards, in the course of his sermon yesterday morning, took occasion to refer to the Sunday question before a large congregation. His text was: "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good; abstain from every appearance of evil." Thes. I., 5: 21, 22. After elaborately unfolding the text as the summons of the Almighty, issued to every one of his creatures, the reverend gentleman said: "This text penetrates all business, all government, and reaches the limits of all morals and all spiritual life. It is God's voice to the police board and mayor of our city, and to all in civil authority. There is no possible escape from it. As officers to whom the people have committed sacred trusts, they cannot escape the responsibility—they are public servants. Their duty is to find out where lies the good and where lies the evil, and hold to the one and enforce the statute against the other. They are not to make law. This civil question has been settled for them. God inscribed it in stone on the smoking summit of Sinai: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," and the civil statute is plain. Sad is the day when officers of the law disregard their oath and suffer lawlessness to run riot in our city. I have a right to know where the mayor and all candidates for office stand on this question. If the man who seeks my vote is himself a law-breaker, he cannot have my vote. The issue is upon us, and as citizens we must say whether lawlessness shall reign in our fair city, and whether men who will disregard ther oath shall be elevated by our ballots to positions of trust. I appeal to you to study the question, to know your duty and then meet it like men."

AT OTHER CHURCHES.

Votes Taken and Resolutions Adopted as to Ball.

Rev. J. D. Hutsinpiller, in his morinng sermon at St. Paul's M. E. church, went at Sunday base ball without gloves. He criticised the mayor and city officials for their conduct, and concluded by taking a vote of the congregation condemning Sunday desecration. With the exception of four ladies, every person arose to their feet in answer to the call. The resolutons will be signed by the official members and as many of the congregation as possible.

At the First Presbyterian church Rev. Dr. McGaw only incidentally referred to Sabbath desecration, but his words were very pointed. He submitted the following petition, which was approved by a unanimous vote. It will be signed by the pastor and elders in behalf of the congregation, and presented to the mayor:

To the Mayor and board of police commissioners of the city of Toledo:

Gentlemen: The congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Toledo, to the end that quietness and good order may prevail in our city, earnestly petition you to enforce the laws and ordinances requiring saloons to be closed on the first day of the week and prohibiting the playing of base ball and other games of a similar kind on that day.

THE NORTHERN WAR.

Gov. Barber Will Not Give Up the Prisoners.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 16.—Gov. Barber has made known his intention to again refuse to deliver the prisoners of the rustler war to the Johnson county authorities.

The second demand was made on Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Snider. The governor fears there would be more serious trouble if the stockmen were taken to the scene of their crime.

A secret agent sent into Johnson county by eastern men interested in the range there reports that the entire country is being patrolled by Frank Smith's buffalo home guard of 300 men. Another invasion is expected. It is reported that a large force of regulators is en route with four machine guns. This army will be given battle.

OF COURSE THEY ARE.

Wabash, Ind., May 16—Robert Craig & Son, owners of a large paper mill in Airdrie, Scotland, recently sent their superintendent, James Young, to this country to purchase machinery for their plant. Mr. Young is now in Wabash inspecting the machinery in use in the Diamond Match company's immense paper mills here. He said that American machinery is far superior to that made in Great Britain, and that American paper makers are paid better wages.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope

and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to subside, I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. PASTURE AT $2 A MONTH!

I will take horses to pasture on my farm at Bay Shore. They will be looked after twice a day, be regularly salted and cared for. The pasture is part tame and part wild. When the tame pasture is exhausted, as is invariably the case in the middle of the summer, the wild pasture is rich and luxuriant, keeping the stock in prime condition the whole season.

The pasture fronts on the bay, so that the stock can stand in the water, which is of material benefit to horses which have become sore from being driven on the pavements. For further information address FRANK B. NILES, 357 Irving St., Toledo, O.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

THE SWORN TORMENTORS OF THE INQUISITION.

What cared they for the groans of the victim as he lay stretched upon the rack? Yet people whose hearts are neither as hard as the nether mill stone, nor whose fortitude is excessive, often have no pity on themselves—voluntarily incur life-long torture by neglect. Rheumatism, the most agonizing and obstinate of complaints is, perhaps, more frequently neglected in its incipiency than any other, the preliminary twinges being set down to the credit of "a cold in the bones" which will pass away of itself. Singular fatuity—fatal delusion! Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a potent safeguard against the terrible inroads of this insidious and dangerous malady—dangerous because of its proneness to attack the heart, the seat of life. Neuralgia is also effectually counteracted and relieved by the Bitters. Malaria, kidney complaints, debility, indigestion, biliousness, la grippe, loss of appetite and the inability to sleep are among the complaints eradicable with this genial corrective.

Say, Uncle, haven't seen you looking so neatly dressed in many a year. Who must be congratulated for giving you such a perfect fit? How many wheels did you give up for this nobby suit?

I had it made to my own measure at the Atlantic Pants Co. Paid $16 for this all-wool Scotch Cheviot suit. They have over 200 styles to select from at $15, $16, $18, $20, $25. They will make it for you exactly as you wish. Their all-wool trousers at $3, $4, $5, $6, are extra good value. The Atlantic Pants Co. cannot be excelled in style, quality, fit and price. SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

Albert Neukom's Horse on a Red-Hot Rampage.

This morning a horse of Mr. A. Neukom's, attached to a buggy, became frightened and ran away on Jefferson street and created general havoc.

At the corner of Jefferson and Twenty-First street the horse left the street and ran into Guy Major's lawn, where he raised Cain and leveled the flower beds. The buggy struck the posts supporting the porch and demolished the structure and the vehicle itself.

The horse was finally held up without doing himself much damage. The animal seemed frenzied.

THE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

Sixty-five Musicians Strong—Sketch of Damrosch.

Since the first announcement of Theodore Thomas in Toledo no event has been so eagerly anticipated as is the evening of May 21, when the great Symphony Orchestra, led by Walter Damrosch, will give a fine program at Wheeler's. It is an expensive undertaking to bring them here, but Toledo is in the front rank of musical cities, and the enterprise will certainly be appreciated.

Walter Damrosch is the youngest orchestral conductor in the country, and as the son of the late Dr. Leopold Damrosch, he comes well equipped by inheritance, to the work he loves. Damrosch, the elder, was the originator of symphony and oratorio societies in America. Walter Damrosch was born in 1862, and was under the training of his distinguished parent from his youth up. He was also given the advantage of study with the best German masters. When only 19 years old he was elected director of the Newark Harmonic society, and in 1884 took the German Opera company on a tour of the large cities, as musical director, with signal success. He was elected to succeed his father as director of the oratorio and symphony societies. The coming of this distinguished young leader with his trained musicians is an event in Toledo.

FIXED FOR GERMANY.

Schauss Company Employes Remember Their Superintendent.

The employes of the Schauss Manufacturing company gave the superintendent, Chas. Schauss, a genuine surprise on Saturday last. Mr. Schauss leaves this afternoon to spend a few months in Germany for rest and recuperation. The employes gathered at the factory just before 1 o'clock and sent a messenger for Mr. Schauss. He responded in a hurry, and met a strike as he was led to believe, but before he could comprehend it, he was presented with a fine umbrella, toilet case, blacking set and traveler's ink stand and pen, with best wishes of employes. As soon as he could partly recover himself he responded in a feeling manner. The boys say they have him fixed so he "can make a raise every day."

TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS

Raised to Beautify and Adorn Westminster Church.

The Westminster church society held a meeting after morning services yesterday and general satisfaction was expressed on the action of the joint session of the two committees with regard to the removal of the First church.

Mr. Alex Smith made a short address, stating that inasmuch as the Westminster church was going to remain in its present field it would be necessary to improve and decorate the property, both within and without. To accomplish this oney would be needed, as there was a deficit in the treasury and he made a call for $1,500 to defray expenses. There was a large attendance present and enthusiasm ran high. Before the meeting adjourned over $2,000 was raised.

EPWORTH ANNIVERSARIES.

Two Chapters Celebrate Their Institution.

The Epworth leagues of St. Paul's and St. John's M. E. churches celebrated their anniversary day last night with appropriate exercises. The program as printed in Saturday's Bee was observed at St. Paul's, and much interest was manifested in all of the addresses. At St. John's the Epworth colors were displayed with the motto "Look Up, Lift Up!" neatly arranged on the wall. The members sat in the front seats. Mr. George Bartlett, ex-president, read the scripture lesson, and Mr. A. B. Hood offered prayer. President L. S. Churchill briefly reviewed the objects of the league, and gave way to the pastor, Rev. Dr. Fish, who delivered one of his most instructive sermons for the benefit of the youth. On the whole, the Epworth chapters cannot fail to receive an impetus from the services of last night.

A. this week with a series of novel talks, as follows: Monday will be Christian workers' night; Tuseday, athlete's night; Wednesday, business men's night; Thursday, bummers' night and newsboys' night, one service to follow the other; Friday, school boys' and drummers' night, two services; Saturday, society men's night.

Yesterday afternoon Timotheus Taminosian, a native of Antioch, Syria, and a resident of this country for several years, addressed the boys on the customs of boys in America. He dressed three boys in his native costumes, one as a mother, another as a son and the third as a sweetheart. He performed a mock wedding ceremony with his subjects. The address was greatly enjoyed. Rev. F. W. Hunt addressed the men on how to study the Bible later in the afternoon.

IN LABOR CIRCLES.

Brewers Signed the Scale—Typos Elect Officers.

Contrary to the expectations of many who had watched closely the developments of the beer men's trouble, a settlement was made at the meeting at the Boody house Saturday, which is very satisfactory to the men and presumably so to the bosses, as they signed the scale presented by the two unions and which has already been printed in the Bee, with very little revision. The men made some minor concessions but the victory is undoubtedly theirs. Dennis Coghlin, for the Buckeye Brewing company; Mr. Morris, for the Finlay Brewing company; Carl Lenk, for the Toledo Brewing and Malting company; C. R. Brand, for Grasser & Brand; John Baertschi for the Eagle Brewing company; Reynold Voit, for Union No. 60, and Louis Mueller for the National Brewers' union, signed the contracts.

Toledo Typographical union, No. 63, held their regular monthly meeting at Carpenters' hall yesterday, initiated two full members and two apprentice members, and elected officers for the next six months, as follows: President, Joe Munn; vice president, C. F. Holden; recording secretary, W. S. Brown; financial and corresponding secretary, F. H. Kininger; treasurer, Thos. Rooney; sergeant-at-arms, Fred Hitchens; delegates to Central Labor union, long term, R. F. Booth, Thos. Rooney, John Sullivan; short term, Chas. Crippin, J. B. Foulke, C. F. Holden.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN SERIOUS.

Surcharged Car Rails Cause Trouble.

It is becoming positively unsafe for horses to travel on some of the streets where the electric cars operate. Several accidents caused by horses stepping on surcharged rails happened on Summit street to-day.

This forenoon as a team of Joe Popp's, attached to a coupe, turned in at Dr. Jones', on Jefferson street, one of the horses stepped on a rail and immediately the vehicle and driver and horses were a promiscuous mass. The coupe was wrecked and Frank Bowman, the driver, was thrown to the street and slightly injured. Mr. Popp will sue for damages.

ARRANGEING FOR ACTION

Toledo Pastors' Union Meet in Special Session

And Discuss the Question of Sunday Ball.

Not Agreed as to the Method, but Concerted Action to be Taken to Secure Observance of Law.

The Toledo Pastors' union held a very earnest meeting at the First Congregational church this morning for the purpose of taking some action toward better Sunday observance in this city. The matter was thoroughly discussed, especially the Sunday base ball question, for nearly two hours. The preachers were all decided on the point that the time for some telling action has arrived, but they were not quite agreed as to the means to be employed, and some of the debates were especially lively. Mayor Emmick came in for a large share of the blame, and nearly all of the ministers especially condemned his administration so far as the enforcement of law is concerned.

A new committee was appointed to visit the police board on Wednesday evening of this week, and it was the sentiment of the union that if the board did not give the matter proper attention, steps will be taken to compel the enforcement of the laws, through the courts if necessary.

Dr. J. A. P. McGaw reported that the committee which had previously been appointed had called upon Mayor Emmick, and when they asked him if he had been quoted correctly in the press as declaring in favor of base ball on Sunday, he said that he had spoken them simply as a citzen and not as mayor. This statement caused considerable amusement among the ministers.

Some of the members who were on the committee to visit the police board had other engagements that would keep them away and asked to be relieved from the committee.

In the reorganization of the committee which this necessiated there was considerable discussion as to how it should be made up, and Mr. Roberts wanted the pastors' union to call on the board in a body.

A motion made by Mr. Hutsinpiller was finally carried, providing that the committee shall consist of one pastor from each denomination. The committee was then appointed as follows: Revs. H. M. Bacon, E. W. Hunt, S. D. Hutsinpiller, G. E. Hiller, S. G. Anderson, T. S. Buckingham and W. C. Hopkins.

Mr. Hunt stirred the association up with a pla nof work which he presented, and this occupied the remainder of the session. "This action which we have taken," said he, "will be of no effect unless we make them understand that something is to follow. I don't blame the officials so much; it is only a matter of who frightens them the most. If the anti-Sunday people can make a better showing of influence than we do, we will be defeated. The laymen can do the best work, and we should let them come to the front.

I have a statement signed by a large number of laymen from my church asking that a meeting of laymen of the city be called to consider this question of Sunday observance. We ought to have the police board and officials waited on by prominent men of the city who will have the nerve not only to talk to the board, but such men as will hold the mayor up before himself, and make him understand that serious consequences will follow if he does not act in a determined manner. The laymen should do most of this work rather than the preachers, and the ministers should let them do t.

Rev. J. H. Bethards continued in the same strain as follows: "We know that one year ago when this same subject was agitated that they pretended to arrest a club; that the club went on with the game as though nothing had happened, and afterwards only a small fine was paid and the matter dropped. With the officials it is merely a matter of ballots, and I am in favor of letting the laymen do some of the work. If we can show these officials a handful of ballots that will hold the balance of power we can get what we want. Iwould like to see a man elected mayor who believes in Sunday observance from principle; but the only way to control these things that hang in politics is to show them ballots."

Messrs. Hiller and Anderson were in favor of having the preachers' committee call upon the police board first, and then if this did not avail, to bring in the laymen.

Dr. McGaw stated that yesterday his congregation had unanimously adopted resolutions against Sunday base ball.

Revs. Fisk, of the First Congregational, and Hutsinpiller, of St. Paul's M. E., stated that like resolutions had been unanimously adopted by their congregations yesterday.

Rev. W. H. Sloan declared himself as opposed to making this a fight between the churches and the Sunday desecrators. "This is not a fight against the saloon power by the church, but it is a fight between law-abiding people and those who are not. Neither has the church any more right to control politics than the saloon. I am opposed to any union of the church with politics."

This same sentiment was set forth by Messrs. Hunt and Hutsinpiller, and it seemed to be the real feeling of nearly all the pastors, though Rev. Roberts favored a fight on the grounds of religion.

Rev. Hiller also had some strong sentiments to express in the matter, and regarding Mayor Emmick in particular. "Thus far the officials have fed us on taffy," said he. "When this mayor was first elected he made a spurt at enforcing the laws. We then passed a resolution thanking him, but, if you remember, I opposed that resolution for I did not think that the mayor was honest. This fight will be a long one, and I am in favor of the preachers making the first effort and then calling in the laymen.

Dr. Williams called forth considerable applause by referring to the methods employed by Dr. Parkhurst in New York. Said he: "I presume that the police force do not respect that preacher very much, but there is one preacher in New York whom the police force of that city does respect, and the city officials respect him. When we are ready to humble ourselves and take as positive action as Dr. Parkhurst did, and make the police board feel that our people are with us, then we can accomplish something."

Rev. Candee declared himself in favor of taking legal measures against the mayor if the laws are not enforced. His plan was to impeach that official and fight the case to the highest court. This statement was also applauded.

Mr. Hunt then brought the matter definitely before the meeting by a motion that each pastor do all in his power to have the laymen of his church attend a meeting to be held one week from to-morrow. "Not simply a mass meeting," said he, "but a meeting of business men for business."

After more discussion this motion was laid ove runtil the meeting next Monday morning, the vote being 10 to 9.

The meeting then adjourned.

The River And Harbor Bill.

The senate committee on rivers and harbors has increased the appropriations nearly two millions of dollars over the amount fixed in the bill which passed the house. While the total amount is large, not an objection has been made to the final passage of the bill which does not emanate either from sectional feeling or from a general desire to retrench no matter how meritorious or necessary a measure may be. The latter objection is narrow and not at all in keeping with the broad spirit of American progress which is equal to every emergency. The former is the carping of jealous obstructionists strongly infiltrated with a policy of rule or ruin.

In this connection the Bee replies to an esteemed democratic correspondent who inquires:

"How can you consistently advocate the passage of a measure so radically paternal and so grossly extravagant as the river and harbor bill?.It is undemocratic and reckless."

Our friend looks through glasses badly fitted for strabismic eyes. The present river and harbor bill was carefully prepared. There is not an item that contemplates an improvement that will not benefit commerce on the high seas, and on the great inland lakes and on the navigable rivers. Every dollar of appropriation for such purpose honestly expended is worth many dollars to general trade, and so closely connected are the trade interests of all sections of this industrial country that whatever benefits one section is apt to reflect to the advantage of all. If to support so wholesome a measure as the river and harbor bill is paternalism, then is paternalism patriotism; and patriotism is American every day in the year.

The Toledo harbor and the Maumee river are the examples of all: A good harbor here and a safe and deep channel to the lake enlarges our shipping, establishes lines of steamers that take the grain from the Wabash, Clover Leaf and other western railways and make good markets at every point from the lake to the Mississippi river. The oak forests of Northwestern Ohio were cleared and the country enriched by the shipping facilities of such harbors as Toledo possesses, and the waterways established the foundations of many goodly fortunes in numerous cities and towns in this section. It is not undemocratic to support any measure of general benefit, and it is neither extravagant nor reckless for the government to appropriate whatever will build up commerce and strengthen industry from Buffalo to Duluth, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Canada to Mexico. The attitude of eastern papers in attacking the deep channel project is sectional and provincial, and wholly inexcusable.

Beginning at the Right End.

At the great mass meeting in Omaha yesterday, Bishop Ninde made the speech of the day, and, in brief, gave what might well be taken as text and program for honest workers for humanity in the way of Christ-like endeavor. He rebuked, by gentle speech, the worldly way of permitting matters to drift, and then attempting to correct the wrong by doctoring results. Orators who had preceded the bishop, talked of law to make people keep the Sabbath; Bishop Ninde said: "You must win people to Christianity, go out after the masses and reach their hearts. The churches have gotten in the way of shifting along to keep up with the rich, instead of going after the masses which most need their refining and uplifting influences. When the people are moved in the right direction the Sabbath question will soon solve itself.

Golden words of truth these. To appeal to the law to shut and lock gates and put up bars on the first day of the week, to try to make men holy, peaceable and good is to confess that the mission of Christ and his followers, to lead, not drive men in purer and better ways, is not possible of fulfillment. The law has its mission but it cannot move the hearts and consciences of men.

A Rock Ahead.

Judge Sage, of the United States district court for Southern Ohio, has decided that so much of the river and harbor bill, passed by a preceding congress, as confers judicial power upon the Secretary of War is unconstitutional.

The cause in question originated in Muskingum county. The river of that name is navigable and is maintained by the United States. The river and harbor bill authorized the construction of a bridge at Zanesville. It was built at state expense by the commissioners of Muskingum county, from plans furnished by the Secretary of War. The bridge impedes navigation and is ordered changed by the war department. The commissioners refuse to comply with the order, hence the suit.

The decision of Judge Sage is important. Judicial power is conferred upon the Secretary by every act of a similar nature, all improvements contemplated by the river and harbor bill being made under the supervision of the war department. It behooves congress to revise its methods in this particular.

An Unnecessary Fling.

This mean little paragraph appeared as editorial in the St. Louis Republic:

Ohio men have had their fling in national politics. Ohio has no more chance now for putting a man at the head of a presidential ticket and electing him than has New England or the south.

This is an unnecessary fling at a great body of loyal democrats. There are four hundred thousand of them in Ohio, one hundred thousand more than in Missouri, and the drift of politics in Ohio is towards democracy. Under favorable conditions it is not at all improbable that the electoral vote of Buckeyedom may be cast for the democratic candidate this year. Brother Jones should not work off his bile on Ohio democrats. They are true blue and don't deserve kicking. The Republic should be content to whack republicans.

Grosvenor Again.

The most irrepressible Ohio politician is Gen. Charley Grosvenor, of Athens. A hater of democrats and democracy, he is also a factionist in his own party and has long been under the ban of the Foraker wing. Legislated out of congress several times by republican assemblies he bobs up serenely semi-occasionally and assumes leadership by sheer force of ability and pugnacity. He is going to congress again, having been nominated last week in a strong republican district. We shall hear much from the Athenian this campaign as he is vociferously oratorical when on top. He is a Sherman lieutenant of much following.

The Preachers' Roast

The compliments of the season from the Toledo Preachers' Union to His Honor Mayor Emmick and the republican police board. It was a great roast the good divines gave these recalcitrant public officers yesterday. Everything goes with Mayor Emmick, and for many months he has pulled the wool over the eyes of a great many who helped to elect him. Now he is hung up for public inspection from the pulpits of Toledo. How does he like it? He deserves the vigorous castigation, and should have more of the same kind.

There are two republicans in southeastern Ohio who have been trying to break into congress lo these many years without success. They are ex-Lieut.-Gov. Richards, of Jefferson county, and ex-Atty.-Gen. Hollingsworth, of Belmont. They served together in the legislature and have ever since been big enough to be in each other's way. They are in the race again this year with the usual prospects.

The worst job of paving that has been done in this city for many years is the Washington street job which was laid last season. The bricks have sunk in many places and great ruts are in the street every few rods. It is a worse job than Uncle Jonathan Busembark constructed of basswood on Broadgauge boulevard.

In a letter to Senator Chandler, Secretary Charles Foster shows that he is full of pepper and vinegar and can say as cutting things with pen as with tongue. It is a republican mess that is stirred up, but it is pleasing to know that Mr. Foster can handle bulldozing, state-stealing Chandler as efficiently as he did Ben Butler when in congress some years since.

The contest for delegate to the Chicago convention from Lucas county is practically settled by the withdrawal of Mr. Byron Ritchie. Mr. W. J. Colburn will undoubtedly be selected. He is a democrat without fault and a worker of reputation.

The spectacle of the Cincinnati Commercial supporting Sherman for president after accusing him of bribery and corruption in state politics is as interesting as it is surprising. No knife concealed beneath that cloak?

New York papers take occasion to say that the metropolis is not jealous of Chicago. Possibly not, yet nearly everything that will help Chicago is opposed by New York. The reading public draw their own conclusions.

It hardly becomes those who defeated the three-year gas proposition in 1890 to find fault now. Except for their dogged opposition Toledo would not now have any gas controversy.

If Gov. Ashley is to be the Sherman candidate for congress in this district there will be a high mix of the factionists. Such politics will make new and strange bed fellows.

HEAD CRUSHED.

Terrible Accident That Befell a Boy at Sandusky.

Sandusky, .O. May 16.—A terrible accident occurred in the west part of the city Sunday afternoon, by which Charles Thompson, a 13-year old son of Dewitt C. Thompson, a cook at the soldiers' home, lost his life.

Thompson was fishing in Mills' creek, when his line became entangled in a Big Four trestle. In trying to undo it he got under a train of loaded coal cars, when a switch engine backed against the train, crushing his head to a jelly and badly mangling his hands and arms. Death was instantaneous.

The body fell into the creek and was taken ashore by some boys who were young Thompson's companions.

THE ELLIS ISLAND AFFAIR

Secretary Foster Opens His Pepper Box

And Puts a Little Seasoning Into the Investigation Now Taking Place.

Washington, May 16.—Secretary Foster has written to Chairmen Chandler and Stump, of the joint committee investigating Ellis Island affairs, a letter in reply to their inquiries of April 22 in regard to the opinion of the Attorney General that head money was legally used for the island improvement. In it he says:

"While both the substance and spirit of your letter are occasion for profound surprise, a reasonable regard for those proprieties which usually characterize correspondence on public questions between officials representing different branches of the government will protect me against any temptation to adopt a similar tone, and thereby to double the occasion for astonishment and regret.

"Your letter appears to express disapproval of an official act of that officer in giving me his construction of a statute that I am called upon to administer, and yet you do not seem to disagree with the attorney general in his conclusions, as I gather from the sentence: 'This committee has never expressed the opinion that the expenditures from the head money were absolutely illegal.'

"Doubtless the attorney general would have been gratified if your expression of approval had been more definite, and you had seen fit to use some other word qualifying 'illegal' than that used by you. Upon reflection, perhaps, you will conclude that the phrase 'absolutely illegal' is somewhat nebulous. It conveys to the mind of the ordinary reader the same impression that he receives upon reading of a "tolerable good egg.' If 'wholly' and 'positively' are synonims or 'absolutely,' then the attorney general will be pleased to know that you agree with him so far as to say that the expenditures referred to were only a little 'illegal,' and at the worst only 'uncertainly' illegal.' This will doubtless be as gratifying to him as the knowledge of that new canon of interpretation of statutes that you favor me with, namely, that the meaning of a statute is to be ascertained by facts many of them occurring after its enactment."

To the chairman's inquiry whether he communicated to the attorney-general seven groups of facts recapitulated by them he says:

"I have the honor to say that I did not. Your desire to have the 'whole series of facts communicated to the attorney-general' with the request that 'he will state whether or not they modify his legal opinion,' I submit is a matter of personal curiosity with which I have no concern whatever. Doubtless the attorney-general will make appropriate reply without the intervention or solicitation of the head of the treasury department.

"You further say: 'We also desire his opinion and your own (mine) not only as to the technical meaning of the clause in the act of March 3, 1891, but,' etc. You will no doubt excuse me if I modestly decline to give you such opinion. I am not a lawyer, and hence it would seem to be indelicate for me to intrude my opinion of the technical meaning, etc., of the statute referred to."

The chairman having asked his opinion, "in a larger sense, whether the action of the treasury department from first to last in connection with the Ellis island improvement has shown a wise and competent administration of public affairs," the secretary says:

"It must be known to you that very much of what has been done in connection with the Ellis island improvement was inaugurated prior to my becoming secretary of the treasury; that all that has been done since has been done under the immediate supervision of the supervising architect and an efficient and trusted officer of the treasury department, Assistant Secretary Nettleton.

"I am not familiar with all of the details of the various improvements made on Ellis island and in connection with the administration of the immigration business and procuring facilities for doing this business, and I cannot state 'whether from first to last each and every detail would have been approved by me;' and I can state, as you well know, that in a 'larger sense.' I am, as secretary of the treasury, responsible for what has been done; that in the main I believe it to have been well and wisely done, and that this work will remain as an evidence of the wisdom and humanity of this government long after the criticism that has assailed it has passed from the public mind.

"Respectfully yours,
"CHARLES FOSTER, Secretary"

KURTZ AFTER EMMICK.

The Mayor Promised to Vote Against Brown

For Meat Inspector, but Like all His Promises it Will Not Go—To be Reconsidered.

Jake Kurtz is after Mayor Emmick's scalp now in earnest. Vince, it is alleged, promised to vote against Brown at all hazards. Kurtz and Brown are deadly enemies. Both are after the asylum beef contracts, and hence arose the trouble.

Kurtz had a candidate but was not very particular who was elected so long as it was not Brown. He elicited a promise from the mayor to the effect that he would vote against Brown in any event, and if feasible and possible vote for Kurtz's candidate. He did neither one or the other, and so Jacob is hot under the collar. It is understood that the mayor promises to have the vote reconsidered.

LOOKING INTO THE MATTER

Coroner Beckwith Conducting an Investigation

Into Friday Night's Street Car Accident—Summary of the Testimony Given Thus Far.

The St. Clair street bridge accident is being investigated by Coroner Beckwith at City Solicitor Reade's office.

Coroner Beckwith presides, Attorney Emery D. Potter, jr., represents the Lake Shore Railway company, Attorney Barton Smith the Consolidated, and Solicitor Read the city.

Francis Coleman, grocer, of Broadway, who was on car 174, in the wreck, gave a detailed account of the wreck, as appeared in Saturday's Bee.

Nicholas Gillen, conductor of car 174, Albert Sherman, motorman of 173 and Nelson M. Pelton, foreman of the Cherry street barn, told practically the same story as given by Mr. Coleman, with the exception that Pelton testified that he heard different crews complain of the unsafe condition of the bridge.

City Civil Engineer Miller testified to having been called up by 'phone by G. W. Tonson, one of his deputies, on Friday morning, between 10 and 11 o'clock, who reported an examination of the bridge, and that it was in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Mr. Miller notified the Lake Shore civil engineer by 'phone. He made no report to the Consolidated management.

Manager Lang, of the Consolidated, stated that about 10 o'clock Thursday morning he received information relative to the unsafe condition of the bridge. With Superintendent Denman he drove to the bridge and made an examination. They boarded a car and rode over the structure, noticed the timbers gave in a little. Nothing further was done in the matter.

Samuel DeHaven, an employe of the drug store where the 'phone message to Engineer Miller was sent from, testified to hearing the message sent to Miller, and something was said about the bridge being rrrGyv .E-uhm.wlrF0f, shulrdhdlr being four inches out of place.

Geo. M. Reid, of Cleveland, superintendent of bridge of the Lake Shore, testified that he inspected the bridge last fall and found it in a safe condition.

George W. Tonson, deputy city civil engineer, was next called to the stand. He rode over the bridge Friday morning and noticed the railing sag. He alighted, and, on making an examination, found the east stringer rotten and moved about four inches out of place at one end and three inches at the other. A motorman on one of the cars spoke to him of the unsafe condition of the bridge.

George C. Cleveland, assistant engineer for the Lake Shore, was put on the stand with regard to the telephone message from the city engineer's office. He said he knew nothing of the message until after the wreck.

The inquest was contineud this afternoon before Coroner Beckwith. Chief Engineer Samuel Rockwell was the first witness. He described at length the condition of the bridge. His evidence was mainly confined to matters pertaining to the duties of his and similar offices, and nothing of importance bearing on the death was elicited.

Several important witnesses will be examined this afternoon.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

A Grand Turn-out at Sidney on Sunday.

St. Marys, O., May 16.—(Special)—Holy Angels' church, the most magnificent structure around here, was dedicated at Sidney, Shelby county, yesterday, with impressive ceremonies.

Excursions were run on C., H. & D. and Big Four, and over 5,000 strangers were present. Societies from Cincinnati, Dayton, Middletown, Wapakoneta, Springfield, Greenville, Lima, Urbana, Piqua, Bellefontaine and Troy took part in the monster parade which eclipsed anything ever seen hehe, and was over two miles long.

Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, delivered the dedicatory sermon.

MUST PAY THE TAX

So Decides Judge Pugsley This Morning.

In the Case Coming from Providence Township—Summary of the Points Made by the Judge.

In Common Pleas court to-day Judge Pugsley decided the case of James Stevenson against County Treasurer Hunter, in a manner that showed much research and careful consideration. The case involves several interesting legal points, which were disposed of satisfactorily by the court.

The case grows out of the enforcement of prohibitory liquor laws in Providence township, the details of which appeared in the Bee not long since.

It seems that Stevenson continued in the business for nine months and was called upon by Treasurer Hunter to pay the Dow tax. He resisted payment on the ground that he was not liable to payment of the tax for the reason that the law prohibited the sale of liquor in the township, and that that the state could not both tax a business and prohibi it at the same time.

The decision of the court was that Stevenson must pay the tax; that the Dow law holds every person engaged in the traffic liable for the tax; that there is no exception, and a man cannot take advantage of his own violation of the law to resist the payment of the tax: that the taxation of the liquor traffic in Ohio does not render the business a protected one, and the claim that it did was fallacious and contrary to the decisions of the supreme court of Ohio and other states.

THE CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

The Political Equality Club Meeting.

Isabella Circle This Afternoon—Union of Unions and Home Aid Association To-night.

The Political Equality club met with Mrs. Ambrose Clough, Adams street, Saturday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Murphy, in the chair. The usual chapter from "Civil Governments" was read, and Mrs. Murphy then gave an interesting account of the Michigan convention, and afforded information to delegates and others who will attend the state convention at Salem as to the best and cheapest route, and the entertainers at Salem. It is probable the delegates will be entertained by Friends, a hospitable and highly cultured people whose quaint customs will furnish interesting study to those unfamiliar with them.

The parliamentary drill on Privileged Questions was conducted by Miss Helen Nolan, and Miss Katharine Calkins. The resolution, "Resolved, That we immediately disband this club, renounce all work for equal rights, and retire to the seclusion of our homes, where we can use our influence quietly for the ennobling of humanity," create some consternation, and the arguments in its favor which were said to have been plagiarized from the "brilliant" speech made at Columbus last winter against school suffrage didn't seem to be very convincing. The speaker was declared out of order, was ruled in order by the chair and the decision of the chair was appealed from, a vote taken, the result being very disastrous for the "unruly" member.

The club received four new members, and adjourned to meet Saturday afternoon, May 28, with Miss Louise Obermiller, 625 Findlay Place.

The Isabella Circle is meeting with Mrs. J. W. Sykes, 550 Segur avenue, this afternoon.

Committees from the various churches are requested to meet with the joint committee of the Union of Unions at Emory hall to-night.

The lecture at the Central Congregational church last night under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was an interesting discussion of the temperance question from a scientific standpoint.

The Home Aid association will meet at Odd Fellows' temple to-night.

The last meeting of the Catholic club of the season will be held Thursday night. There will be interesting papers from Mrs. M. B. Daley and Miss Louise Obermiller, while the musical selections, as usual, will be fine.

THE POSTOFFICE BUILDING

Congressman Haynes to Secure the Appropriations

For the New Addition—Mail Line to Put-in-Bay—Death of a Carrier—Special Agents Here—Other Postoffice News.

Postmaster Brown, who returned from Washington Saturday, pays Congressman Haynes a handsome compliment for the manner in which the colonel is working for the appropriation for the proposed addition to the postoffice. The idea is to get $75,000 for an addition to be erected adjoining the present building.

"If we don't get it," the P. M. said this morning, "it won't be the fault of Congressman Haynes. I never saw a man work harder and with more energy for the success of anything. He is a hustler."

A mail route has been established between Toledo and Put-in Bay, and a special inspector will be here in a few days to make a contract for carrying the mails with Manager Colton, of the steamer City of Toledo. This is one of Postmaster Brown's recommendations, and it is a good one. It fills a long felt want, as heretofore Toledo mailed destined for the islands went around the world by way of Sandusky.

Spencer A. Young, one of the oldest of the mail carriers, who was stricken down while on duty a few months ago, died Saturday and will be buried to-morrow. A meeting of the carriers and others will be held this afternoon to take the necessary steps relative to attending the funeral and paying the customary respects to their dead comrade.

Postoffice Inspector Leatherman is here to-day looking into several grievances from parties who have failed to make regular connections with the mails in some of the outside postoffices under the jurisdiction of the Toledo postmaster.

The new stamping machine is on its way from Washington and will be in position in about a week.

A special agent is due here this week to let the contract for wiring the building for electric lighting.

"Hemorrhage of the Lungs and Consumption have afflicted me for years. This winter my health was in a more precarious condition than ever before, and my family and friends thought my days on earth were few. In this emergency, I sent for Dr. S——, who prescribed it almost immediately relieved me, and has since greatly benefitted me. I cannot but think it is the greatest medicine in the world for Lung and Throat diseases."

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

Dr. S——, referred to in the foregoing, also writes us as follows:

"I prescribed your Emulsion for Mrs. Gain. After taking it a while, her cough became less distressing, expectoration less, and her nervousness ceased almost entirely. Her cough and expectoration finally ceased entirely, and to-day she is enjoying a comfortable degree of health."

UNFORGOTTEN.

The morning hours were merry,
  The genial moon is calm,
The fragrance of the wild rose
  Is like a healing balm;
The birds within the woodland
  Carol a happy song,
But in my heart abides still
  A sorrow deep and strong—
    My poor lost love!

The glittering streamlet murmurs
  Over its pebbly bed,
The fleecy cloud is sailing
  So lightly overhead;
The southern breeze is playing
  Among the hazel boughs;
But, ah! remembrance dies not
  Of hopeful, happy vows—
    My poor lost love!

The calm, lone hills ascending
  Toward the clear blue sky,
O'erlook the smiling valley
  Where here at rest I lie;
Those lone hills are the emblem
  Of that far silent land,
Where she I loved is resting,
  One of a countless band.
    My poor lost love!

A vision of a yew-tree—
  A narrow, turf-clad grave—
The Winter of a country
  Where winds tempestuous rave;
A little torrent falling,
  With moaning, mournful sound,
Fills my imagination
  Far more than all around.
    My poor lost love!

Ah! gentle joyous Nature,
  Thy wearied, mourning child
Delights in thy rejoicing,
  But may not be beguiled
From thinking of that dear one,
  With dull heart aching sore;
My own, my vanished loved one,
  My soul's light evermore—
    My poor lost love!

We don't all look at questions of ethics in the same way. A young English traveler in Valencia recently became enamored of a gypsy girl, but told the mother that he was not rich enough to marry her. The mother laughed and said: "What! not rich enough in the land of guineas? Why, with so accomplished a thief as my daughter you will be a millionaire in a twelve-month!"

It is only recently that people have been permitted to ascend the rock and signal station at Gibraltar. Since last November the British military, with their families, and persons connected with the British navy, have been permitted to visit this fine lookout. The privilege, however, has not been extended to the citizens of Gibraltar, nor to strangers visiting the fortress, a circumstance which is generally resented, particularly by the subjects of the queen.

A friend of Oliver Wendell Holmes, mentioned by "The Boston Budget," once wrote a book for children and the good doctor agreed to read the manuscript for her. When it was returned she found no erasure or marginal note until, nearly at the end of the story, she came to a single line in the autocrat's fine handwriting. It was placed against a passage upon which she had rather prided herself, a description of the picnic feast of children in a grove. It was this: "Don't let those children eat pickles."

An ingenious resident of Bridgeport, Conn., has worked out an invention which should become a great boon to the unfortunates afflicted with deafness. It is briefly a device which makes the deaf hear. It is the same to the ears as glasses to the eyes, and consists of a soft rubber disk and spring, so shaped that when inserted in the ear it will focus the waves of sound on the natural drum of the ear with such intensity that the afflicted person receives impressions from the outside that nature has seemingly desired to withhold.

A CHINESE GHOST.

There is a new face in the laundry, and although Sing Wah's name adorns the shed in front of the building and his name still swings from the front, he is no longer proprietor, and because of this the Buffalo Chinamen are telling a queer tale among themselves, says the Buffalo News.

A few weeks ago Sing Wah was a very happy Chinaman in his little laundry at 13 Oak street. He had become the owner of a laundry, and was no longer a paung-toi, or one who works for another, and as he washed out collars and cuffs and wrung out the shirts he hummed a merry air, for he dreamed of the time when he would have cash enough to burn his last sheung-tai stick before his image of Joss in America and go home to his parents in far-off China—the land of the cherry blossom and the sweet Kwang-fu orange. He dreamed of a little home in Han Chow, in the Che-Keang province, where his little almond eyes first saw the light of the land ruled over by the son of heaven.

Those were happy days for Sing Wah. Merry days and his labor seemed light, and the long hours he bended over the wash tub seemed to fly by as though they had the pretty light wings of the butterflies he had chased in far away Han Chow when he was a little moon-faced boy, and before he had ever known there was such a place as America.

But now how changed is Sing Wah. The happy hopeful look has gone out of his eyes for awhile, and his spirit is much troubled, and all because of a ghost, a sad and lonely Chinese ghost who has driven him out of his laundry on Oak street, and he is uneasy like the sky spirits of China.

The tale is a strange one and full of Oriental mystery, but it is true as the sayings of Confucius, and the Chinamen of Buffalo are whispering it among themselves and burning strong sheung-tai sticks to exorcise the spirit.

It all happened this way: Three years ago Wong Chung was the owner of the laundry at 13 Oak street. The cash jingled as it rolled into the little lacquered box under the mattress of his bed.

One night Wong Chung was murdered. Why? Who knows? Tsez Moi, the god of evil spirits, maybe, but no one else beside his murderer. His bones were not broken, so it was not a murder of hate. At any rate Wong Chung was killed.

Twelve moons had smiled upon the earth maybe when strange tales were told among the Chinamen about his spirit. It was uneasy. It roamed about when the moon was dark.

Sing Wah had taken the laundry and he heard the strange tales, but he smiled and worked away.

One night a week or so ago his sleep was much troubled, and when he awoke in the morning he was heavy-eyed and confused and he staggered like one who has first smoked opium and then drank water. He had had a dream. It was a queer dream.

First he thought the sky spirit had visited him, a fair-faced woman with eyes of blue, round like the lichee nut, and whose hair was yellow like the gold he had seen on the shrine of the temples in China, and which curled like the little waves when they kiss the rocks. And she smiled on him. Then of a sudden she melted away and in her place stood the to-sze Jen Quong, the priest of the temple who died for her and because of her.

And the spirit reproached him, yet it seemed as though it was Wong Chung who spoke and not Jen Quong, the priest. The work that day was heavy. That night there was no mistake. Sing Wah lay awake far into the hours, and the bells of the city hall told him slowly that it was 2 o'clock. And then a strange thing happened. Wong Chung came to his bedside and spake to him.

Like a man in the clutches of the strong opium Sing Wah cried aloud for peace, but none came. All night he lay with that dread presence beside him.

When it left him he knew not. No work was done that day, and his customers angrily reproached him and took their work elsewhere, but Sing Wah cared not.

Then he sent for Len King, a spirit man who lives out on Seneca street and the fame of whose power has traveled far and wide. To the laundry came King. He would speak to the spirit and tell it to go away and leave Sing Wah in peace. Sunday night Len King remained in the laundry. And here is the tale he told the reporter as he meditatively puffed his little bowled pipe and sent fragrant clouds of smoke high above his head.

"The black hour, which is midnight, had come, and then came the spirit of Wong Chung. And I spoke and he answered me. He wore the light clothes of spirits and his sandals were white and made no noise when he stepped. Then I spoke:

"Oh, Wong, return, go rest, and leave Sing Wah in peace."

The spirit of the murdered one recognized the doctor, for he begged to be let alone. He was lonely, he said, he had no place to go, he was uneasy and he could not rest. He was far from his home, and his bones were far from the land of flowers. What could he do? He was a good ghost and meant no harm. Here his spirit was released and here it must stay.

Now spirit men have power to exorcise only evil ghosts—they can only argue with harmless spirits—and so it was with Len King and the spirit of Wong Chung, and they parted.

Wong Chung's spirits visits his old home at 13 Oak street, and it will not leave until the murdered laundryman's bones are taken up, polished and lacquered and sent to China. Then will the restless spirit know peace, give up its abode in the place.

But until that is done Wong Chung's spirit will remain where it is.

And that is why Sing Wah sold his laundry yesterday and is now looking for another.

Only Chinamen can see the spirit, they say, and To Poi Sah, who is in the laundry, fears not the spirit of the murdered one and his work is light.

The new Earl of Stamford, whose predecessor in the earldom married a pretty South African negress, visited the United States about three years ago. He was known then as William Grey. He is 42 years old.

Lord Tennyson's first book was published in 1830. Mr. Gladstone is probably the next oldest British author, for his pamphlet, which Macaulay demolished, on "The State in Its Relation With the Church," was published in 1838.

Henry Phipps, Jr., the Pittsburg iron millionaire, was recently presented to the queen at Buckingham palace. He is making arrangements to occupy Knebworth, Lord Lytton's ancestral home, which he has leased for a term of years.

Beatrice Vehon, the singer who recently achieved at the Royal Court theater in Stockholm what is described as "the greatest triumph since the days of Christine Nilsson," is a Chicago girl, the child of French parents. She received her musical training in Paris. It is said that her "glorious tones" quite "enthralled the audience" and her beauty was "dazzling."

The ride from Berlin to Vladivostock, which Major Yasumasa Fukushima, a Japanese gentleman, is undertaking, is becoming a veritable triumphal procession. Since he has crossed the Russian frontier he has been met in state at the entrance to every town on his route, and when he arrived at St. Petersburg a few days ago the cavalry officers, as well as a crowd of nonmilitary admirers, gave him a brilliant reception.

President Harrison, Grover Cleveland, and Franklin Pierce are said to have descended from colonists of Woburn, Mass., a town soon to celebrate its 250th anniversary. The present and recent occupants of the white house will be invited to attend.

George Forbes, the well-known electrical engineer of London, England, has arrived at Niagara to inspect the Canadian side of the river relative to the construction of a gigantic tunnel to produce electrical power for transmission to large manufacturing centers.

A BABY'S LIFE SAVED.

"When my baby was in a feeble, almost dying, condition," writes Capt. R. K. West, of the U. S. army, from Fort Niobrara, Neb., "the physician ordered lactated food to be given. He improved at once, soon growing plump and stout. He is now, after having lived on lactated food a year and a half, one of the most healthy and active of children."

LOOK THEM OVER!

The names of the stockholders of the Adrian Land Purchasing and Improvement Company. They will convince you that Adrian's progressive movement is all that is claimed for it, and that an investment of $150 for a choice residence lot within SIX TO TEN BLOCKS from the business center of a city containing such enterprising people is bound to be a paying one.

The Adrian Land Purchasing and Improvement Company was organized in August, 1891, with a capital stock of $100,000, and the above are the subscribers to that stock. They are the progressive citizens of Adrian, of every class, and they pledge themselves that every dollar of the proceeds of the great sale on May 18 will be devoted to improving the property sold, and to build up manufacturing establishments in that city. That is the purpose of their organization. Not a dollar of profits to the company.

BE ON YOUR GUARD.

Dr. Talmage's Sermon on Sunday.

Silence Cannot be Afforded When God and the Bible are Being Assaulted.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 16.—In his sermon Sunday, Rev. Dr. Talmage illustrated, in potent and convincing language, the duty incumbent upon Christians of embracing every opportunity that offers in this life to do good and to advance the cause of the kingdom of Christ by a bold acknowledgement of their principles before men.

The text selected was: Mark ix. 25, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of Him."

Here was a case of great anguish. The son of the household was possessed of an evil spirit which, among other things, paralyzed his tongue and made him speechless. When the influence was on the patient, he could not say a word—articulation was impossible. The spirit that captured this member of the household was a dumb spirit—so called by Christ—a spirit abroad to-day and as lively and potent as in New Testament times. Yet in all the realms of sermonology, I cannot find a discourse concerning this dumb devil which Christ charged upon in my text, saying: "Come out of him."

Against this dumb devil of the text, I put you on your guard. Do not think that this agent of evil has put his blight on those who, by omission of the vocal organs, have had the golden gates of speech bolted and barred. Among those who have never spoken a word are the most gracious and lovely and talented souls that were ever incarnated. The chaplains of the asylums for the dumb can tell you enchanting stories of those who never called the name of father or mother or child, and many of the most devout and prayerful souls will never, in this world, speak the name of God or Christ. Many a deaf mute have I seen with the angel of intelligence seated at the window of the eye, who never came forth from the door of the mouth.

What a miracle of loveliness and knowledge was Laura Bridgman, of New Hampshire, not only without faculty of speech, but without hearing and without sight, all these faculties removed by sickness when two years of age, yet, becoming a wonder at needlework, at the piano, at the sewing machine, and an intelligent student of the Scriptures, and confounding philosophers, who came from all parts of the world to study the phenomenon.

Thanks to Christianity for what it has done for the amelioration of the condition of the deaf and the dumb. Back in the ages, they were put to death as having no right, with such paucity of equipment, to live, and for centuries they were classed among the idiotic and unsafe. But in the sixteenth century came Pedro Ponce, the Spanish monk; and in the seventeenth century came Juan Pablo Bonet, another Spanish monk, with dactylology or the finger alphabet; and in our own century, we have had John Braidwood and Drs. Mitchell and Ackerly and Peet and Gallaudet, who have given to uncounted thousands of those whose tongues were forever silent, the power to spell out on the air by a manual alphabet their thoughts about this world and their hopes for the next. We rejoice in the brilliant inventions in behalf of those who were born dumb. One of the most impressive audiences I ever addressed was in the far west two or three years ago—an audience of about 600 persons, who had never heard a sound or spoken a word, an interpreter standing beside me while I addressed them.

I congratulated that audience on two advantages they had over the most of us—the one that they escaped hearing a great many disagreeable things, and, on the other fact, that they escaped saying things they were sorry for afterward. Yet, after all the alleviations, a shackled tongue is an appalling limitation. But we are not this morning speaking of congenital mutes. We mean those who are born with all the faculties of vocalization and yet have been struck by the evil one mentioned in the text—the dumb devil to whom Christ called when he said, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him."

But then there are occasions when this particular spirit that Christ exorcised when he said: "I charge thee to come out of him," takes people by the wholesale. In the most responsive religious audience have you noticed how many people never sing at all? They have a book and they have a voice, and they know how to read. They know many of the tunes, and yet are silent while the great raptures of music pass by. Among those who sing not one out of a hundred sings loud enough to hear his own voice. They hum it. They give a sort of religious grunt. They make the lips go, but it is inaudible. With a voice strong enough to stop a street car one block away, all they can afford in the praise of God is about half a whisper. With enough sopranos, enough altos, enough bassos to make a small heaven between the four walls, they let the opportunity go by unimproved. The volume of voice that ascends from the largest audience that ever assembled ought to be multiplied about two thousand fold. But the minister rises and gives out the hymn; the organ begins; the choir or precentor leads; the audience are standing so that the lungs may have full expansion, and a mighty harmony is about to ascend, when the evil spirit spoken of in my text—the dumb devil—spreading his two wings, one over the lips of one-half the audience, and the other wing over the lips of the other half of the audience, and the voices rolls back into the throats from which they started, and only here and there anything is heard, and nine-tenths of the holy power is destroyed; and the dumb devil, as he flies away, says: "I could not keep Isaac Watts from writing that hymn, and I could not keep Lowell Mason from composing the tune to which it is set, but I smote into silence or half silence the lips from which it would have spread abroad to bless neighborhoods and cities and then mount the wide-open heavens." Give the long-meter doxology the full support of Christendom, and those four lines would take the whole earth for God.

That hymn, "O, for a thousand tongues to sing," was suggested to Charles Wesley by Peter Bohler, who, after his conversion, said: "I had better keep silent about it." "No," said Wesley, "if you had ten thousand tongues you had better use them for Christ." And then that angel of hymnology penned the words:

> Oh, for a thousand tongues to sing
> My dear Redeemer's praise,
> The glories of my God and King,
> The triumph of his grace.
> Jesus, the name that calms our fears,
> That bids our sorrows cease;
> 'Tis music in the sinner's ears,
> 'Tis life and health and peace.

While much of the modern music is a religious doggerel, a consecrated nonsense, a sacred imbecility, I would like to see some great musician of our time lift the baton and marshal Luther's Judgment Hymn, Yarmouth, Dundee, Ariel, Brattle-street, Uxbride, Pleyell's hymn, Harwell, Antioch, Mount Pisgah, and Coronation, with a few regiments of mighty tunes made in our own time, and storm Asia, Africa and America for the kingdom of God. But the first thing to do is to drive out the dumb devil of the text from all our churches.

Do not, however, let us lose ourselves in generalities. Not one of us but has had our lives sometimes touched by the evil spirit of the text—this awful dumb devil. We had just one opportunity of saying a Christian word that might have led a man or woman into a Christian life. The opportunity was fairly put before us. The word of invitation or consolation or warning came to the inside gate of the mouth, but there it halted. Some hindering power locked the jaws together so that they did not open. The tongue lay flat and still in the bottom of the mouth as though struck with paralysis. We were mute. Though God had given us the physiological apparatus for speech, and our lungs were filled with air which, by the command of our will, could have made the laryngeal muscles move and the vocal organs vibrate, we were wickedly and fatally silent. For all time and eternity we missed our chance. Or it was a prayer-meeting, and the service was thrown open for prayer and remarks, and there was a dead halt—everything silent as a graveyard at midnight. Indeed it was a graveyard and midnight. An embarrassing pause took place that put a wet blanket on all the meeting. Men, bold enough on business exchange or in worldly circles shut their eyes as though they were praying in silence, but they were not praying at all. They were busy hoping somebody else would would do his duty. The women flushed under the awful pause and made their fans more rapidly flutter. Some brother, with no cold, coughed, by that sound trying to fill up the time, and the meeting was slain. But what killed it?—the dumb devil. This is the way I account for the fact that the stupidest places on earth are some prayer meetings. I do not see how a man keeps any grace if he regularly attends them. They are spiritual refrigerators. Religion kept on ice. How many of us have lost occasions of usefulness. In a sculptor's studio stood a figue of the god Opportunity. The sculptor had made the hair fall down over the face of the statue so as to completely cover it, and there were wings to the feet. When asked why he so represented Opportunity, the sculptor answered: "The face of the statue is thus covered up because we do not recognize Opportunity when it comes, and the wings to the feet show that opportunity is swiftly gone."

> Time flies away fast.
> How soon our life here
> Grows old with the year
> That dies with the next December.

THE FATHER OF MANY ILLS.

Constipation leads to a multitude of physical troubles. It is generally the result of carelessness or indifference to the simplest rule of health. Eugene McKay, of Brantford, Ont., writes:

"I had for several years been a sufferer from constipation, had taken a great many different remedies, some of which did me good for a time, but only for a time, then my trouble came back worse than ever. I was induced by a friend, whom Brandreth's Pills had benefited, to try them. Took two each night for a week, then one every night for about six weeks. Since that time I have not experienced the slightest difficulty whatever, and my bowels move regularly every day. I believe firmly that for sluggishness of the bowels and biliousness Brandreth's Pills are far superior to any other."

IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

England Will Not Charge Exhibitors for Space.

London, May 16.—It was understood that when the government decided to increase the grant for the purposes of the British section at the Chicago World's fair from $125,000 to $300,000 that the intention of charging exhibitors in proportion to the amount of space occupied had been abandoned. This is now confirmed by an official circular issued by the royal commission, and which announces that all space in the British section will now be granted free of charge.

PLEADING FOR MONEY.

The Souvenir Coins Under Discussion.

Washington, May 14.—Director-General Davis and Commissioner Edwin Walker, and Lyman J. Gage, of the world's fair, appeared before th ehouse world's fair committee to-day.

Mr. Walker presented a bill prepared by the board of directors requesting an appeared before the house world's fair fair.

The bill directs the secretary of the treasury to have coined at the earliest practicable day 10,000,000 silver coins of the weight and fineness of the silver half dollar, to be legal tender the same as the half dollar. The coins are to be stamped and engraved with such inscription as will make them suitable souvenirs of the exposition.

When the coins are ready they are to be paid out and disbursed in defraying the expenses of the fair.

For the purchase of bullion and the coinage of the proposed pieces the bill appropriates $4,000,000. The bill also contains a section providing that before the secretary of the treasury shall pay out or disburse any part of the fund provided for, satisfactory evidence shall be filed with him showing that the sum of $10,000,000 has been collected and disbursed by the city of Chicago in aid of the affair.

Mr. Walker asked the committee to report the bill or one embodying its features at an early date as possible. The Chicago board, he said would provide all additional money after the appropriation asked for was made and congress would not be asked for another cent.

Mr. Gage read an address of the special committee on federal legislation of the board of directors to the house regarding the proposed appropriation. The address sets forth the necessity for the money asked and says that if the appropriation is withheld the work of the board of lady managers, which has made most gratifying progress must of necessity stop.

The address in conclusion says:

"The provision in the bill as amended, providing payment of the appropriation in a special souvenir coin is, in our opinion, of great value. Carried into effect, these coins will every home in the land. There they will remain, to be handed down to children and children's children, as historical souvenirs of the great event which celebrates Columbus and the new world we occupy.

"The financial advantage to the public treasury of this provision is quite plain to the experienced, but we venture to point out two material considerations which entitle it to regard:

"First—Thus provided for, the appropriation of five millions will cost the treasury less than three and one half millions.

"Second—The purchase of this amount of silver will relieve the bullion market of an accumulation which has weighed like an incubus upon the current price, and will give this valuable product of our mines a chance to resist, under better conditions, the outcome of a free play of the two operating forces—supply and demand.

"We believe that when the information gathered by the special committee of the house under the chairmanship of Hon. A. M. Dockery, is before the country it will be seen that under the most conservative estimate of results, the final issue will bring with it no financial loss to the treasury. For these and many other reasons, which we will not tax your time to present, we earnestly request prompt consideration, and if your judgment shall concur, a favorable report upon the proposed measure to the house."

WAS A POLITICAL MACHINE

Instead of a Well-Conducted Census Bureau.

Washington, May 14.—At the suggestion of Chairman Fithian, it was deicded to conduct the eleventh census investigation according to forms of law in trial courts.

J. A. Collins, of the farms, houses and mortgages division of the census office, was asked if he knew of any mismanagement or waste of funds of the division. Mr. Collins said he had no personal knowledge of waste or mismanagement but thought the division could have been run to better advantage. He thought the fault was in the system.

Spteritendent Porter had been under great pressure through members of congress seeking appointments for their constituents and as a consequence inefficient people were employed and competent ones discharged.

David S. Thompson, census agent in Philadelphia, testified that names were unlawfully added to his list of employes by the Washington office. He had been charged with being absent from his office during the middle of the day, but the charges were unture. He was recommended for removal, but was merely suspended. To show the animus against the Philadelphia work, Mr. Thompson said that a secret agent had been sent to Philadelphia to sift census returns.

Referring to his suspension, Thompson said that after a conference with Mr. Porter he was reinstated. Witness said his principal duties in Philadelphia were to look after matters pertaining to manufactures, but he was relieved from this class of work and ordered to look after minor matters. Witness filed in evidence charges he had made last year against the census bureau.

The recent indorsement of the Keeley treatment by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, and that of the United States government, ought to satisfy anyone that the Keeley cure for the liquor, opium and tobacco diseases, is a harmless remedy, and a Godsend to humanity. Every good thing has its imitators, and the Keeley cure is no exception. There are only two genuine Keeley cure institutes in Ohio, at Marysville and Madisonville.

The Marysville Institute is under the supervision of two eminent physicians, whose administration of the Keeley treatment to over 500 persons since January, 1891, has not been attended by a single accident or death. Our home treatment for the liquor and opium habits is far more successful than the imitation cures that have sprung up. The home treatment for the tobacco habit is having a large sale. Address,

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, [illegible] has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred. Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 133,116 bus., at five other western points 133,205 bus.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports are wheat 356,506 bus. and flour to an aggregate of 450,000 bus. Exports of corn 85,227 bus., and of oats 203,558 bus.

English markets are dull and lower for wheat and steady for corn.

Exports for Ten Months.

The government tables of exports for ten months, show a total outward movement of 189,144,173 bus. in wheat and flour expressed in wheat. It is nine weeks to the close of the crop year. If our exports aggregate even 3,000,000 bus. per week in flour and wheat. We shall have then sent out 216,000,000 bus.

The Markets To-Day.

The change in the weather extends widely over the country, and is very acceptable to everybody. If there are any exceptions we must look for them amongst the holders of grain, prices of which, of all kinds, opened this morning at quite a break.

As trading proceeded a little more firmness was developed, and what was unexpected, a widening of the margin between May and July at Chicago.

The visible supply of wheat decreased last week 1,085,000 bu. Corn 584,000 bu. Oats increased 769,000 bu.

Messrs. Cattell & Co., of New York, give the following as the direction of New York exports for five days last week, viz.: Antwerp, 230,700 bu.; Hamburg, 33,500 bu.; Lisbon, 261,700 bu.; Bordeaux, 88,800 bu.; Oporto, 43,500 bu.; Marseilles, 16,800 bu.; Rotterdam, 41,700 bu.; Amsterdam, 51,500 bu.

The firmness in wheat reported above seemed to lack in staying qualities, and often frequent fluctuations within narrow range. The markets close at a decline of 5-8@1 1-4c on the range of futures, at the different markets.

Corn has been depressed all day, and closes about 1c lower west and 2c lower east, on the May future.

Foreign markets close without significance.

In New York May wheat closed 7-8c and July 1 1-4c lower. May corn 2c and July 1 3-8c lower. May oats 3-8c lower.

In Chicago May wheat closed 5-8c and July 1 1-4c lower. May corn 7-8c and July 1c lower. May oats 3-8c lower.

In Toledo the trading in wheat has been quite light. Prices unsettled, and so are dealers, and are waiting. On the call May wheat sold at 91c. July at 85 to 84 7-8c. August at 84c. After the call May sold at 91 to 91 3-4c and closed at 91c., a loss of 1c. June sold at 89c. July at 85c, closing at 84 3-4c, a loss of 3-4c. August sold at 85 7-8c and closed at 1-2c steady. The stock market was dull this morning. The sales for the two hours aggregated only 133,000 shares. Most of this total was made up of transactions in Chicago Gas, Union Pacific, W. & L. E., Nor. Pac. pfd and National Cordage. The course of prices was irregular. Chicago Gas, Union Pacific, Hocking Valley displayed the most weakness and at one time their prices were down 3-4 to 1 5-8 per cent. Crop Reports.

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—The weekly report of the Michigan weather service bureau state that while the rainfall has been very heavy in all portions of the state and the weather cool, the condition of crops in the ground does not appear to have been seriously damaged except in low lands. A week or two of warm weather would put crops of all kinds on a good footing. Fruit is in splendid condition generally and farmers are sanguine of a full crop.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 16.—The Indiana weather crop bulletin for the week says: The weather continues unfavorable to farm work, and none, or but little plowing was done, or corn planted because of excessive rains. Farmers and mechantmerchants are becoming anxious merchants are becoming anxious on account of the delay in corn planting. The cool temperature—below normal, and but very little sunshine in addition to heavy rains, although not hurtful, were not favorable to growing crops. Wheat, oats, grass and fruit are still in fine, promising condition, but dry, warm weather is much needed.

Des Moines, Ia., May 16.—The week's Iowa crop bulletin says: The daily average temperature was about 10 degrees below normal and the rainfall was generally in excess, ranging from one to three inches. There were not more than 12 hours of sunshine during the week. The crop situation is becoming serious in a considerable portion of the state. Very little plowing has been done and only a bare beginning has been made in corn planting in the more favorable localities.

Columbia, Mo., May 16.—The Missouri state crop bulletin for the week ending May 14 says: The prevailing weather conditions of the week were even more unfavorable than those of the preceding weeks, owing to the general retarding of farm work and the increased liability of permanent injury to growing crops on account of their advanced unmatured condition. Reports show extremely heavy rainfall, low temperature and very little sunshine to have been general in all sections of the state. Damage by high water is reported from Daviess, Grundy, Holt, Lewis, Mississippi and Maniteau counties especially, but low lands all over the state are either under or completely soaked with water and crops thereon are considered a failure. General crop conditions may be summarized as follows: Wheat, except what is ruined on low land, looks fair but promises short crop. Oats are doing well but the acreage is decidedly short. Corn is about one-third planted and the outlook is very poor. Most of the peaches have been killed but other fruit promises well. Reports from the southern counties show a very poor outlook for the cotton crops.

THE STAGE A GOOD PLACE

For Girls Says Mrs. Kendal to a Bee.

Success Will Come to Those Who Deserve It—The Vendetta This Evening—Walter Damrosch and His Famous Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal will appear at Wheeler's this evening in Sardou's comedy, "A Scrap of Paper." These distinguished English artists captured Toledoans the early part of the season and those who are lucky enough to secure even standing room this evening will be fortunate. The advance sale has been very large. A Bee called on Mr. and Mrs. Kendall this morning. Speaking of the stage as a field for girls in which to gain livelihood, Mrs. Kendal said:

"My experience has been such that if any young woman came to me and asked my advice about going on the stage I could encourage her, even if she were only medium in every respect—in looks, in education and in taste. The actress who is determined to succeed becomes educated during the time she is training, and if she is like many others she learns from the characters she portrays many noble sentiments which unconsciously have their effect upon her. In no other profession can a woman make so much money, and, by the by, I want to say just here that neither Mr. Kendal nor I have a single sou that we have not earned."

At the People's.

The Vandetta opens at the People's this evening with all the grand scenic effects and the same company that has made it the success it is. It will without doubt be one of the best attractions that has appeared at the People's this season. The New York World speaking of the piece says: "Mr. Whitecar is doing superlative work in the chief role. His Romarri is a character of unusual power and depth and provides scope and opportunity for expressing the most varied passions and emotions. Joy, love, grief, hate, revenge and forgiveness are presented in rapid succession, and for their proper exposition talents of the highest degree are imperiously demanded. None but a very first-class actor might essay the part. Many elaborate and novel scenes were introduced. The steamship collision was the leading feature."

Damrosch Saturday Eevening.

Saturday evening Walter Damrosch will appear in Toledo, conducting a concert by the Symphony orchestra, of New York, at Wheeler's opera house. Toledo is fortunate in securing this celebrated orchestra, as very few cities are favored. Frl. Irene Pevny, formerly of the Royal opera, Munich, will be the soloist. New York appreciates the worth of Damrosche to such an extent that 13 of the wealthiest citizens, including the Vanderbilts, Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller and Dr. W. Seward Webb, have guaranteed an annual fund of $50,000 for the maintenance of this orchestra as a permanent organization.

A paper on photography applied to the detection of crime was read by Dr. Paul Jeserich at a recent meeting of the Photographic Society of Great Britain. Photography can be of good use for the detection of forgery. In an enlarged photographic picture erasures and alterations can be more clearly seen than in the original. But, above all, photography can demonstrate differences in inks which cannot be perceived by the eye. The tints of the inks that are called black are either brown, red, green or blue in shade. As with ordinary sensitive plates, yellow and green subjects are rendered dark, and blue ones light, the same will follow in photographing inks of various tones.

Cats, large and small, make the most careful toilet of any class of animals, excepting some of the oppossums. The lions and tigers wash themselves in exactly the same manner as the cat, wetting the dark, india-rubber like ball of the forefoot and the inner toe and passing it over the face and behind the ears. The foot is thus at the same time a face sponge and brush, and the rough tongue combs the rest of the body. Hares also use their feet to wash their faces, and the hare's foot is so suitable for a brush that it is always used to apply the "paint" to the face for the stage.

The Ribbon of the Bath, England's prized decoration, is becoming scarce on Frenchmen's breasts. Twenty years ago there were many wearers of it in France, to whom it had been given by the queen for Crimean services, but now there are said to be but three veterans who wear it—Canrobert, MacMahon and an otherwise inconspicuous colonel.

WESTERN LEAGUE BALL

It is in a Very Uncertain Condition.

The Magnates in Session in Chicago.

Bad Management on the Part of the Powers That Be Has Caused All the Trouble.

Western league base ball is in an uncertain state.

St. Paul is ready to quit and Fort Wayne wants to get in.

If St. Paul quits there will be no object in going so far north for one game with Minneapolis.

Indianapolis has only won one game out of nine, and the ground force numbers more than the spectators.

Milwaukee, second in the race, will not draw a corporal's guard this year, for last year, with the club in the lead for the pennant, 30 and 35 people was the total of attendance, and they had to count the ground keeper and the yellow dog in to make the total this big.

Such is the situation confronting the Western league to-day.

The rainy season, and bad management on the part of the owners of the clubs has made the situation serious.

A meeting is being held in Chicago to-day by the Western league managers, to try and bridge over the difficulties.

Manager Morton, of Minneapolis, is there, and many other interested people are in attendance.

The meeting to-night may have much to do with the stability of the Western league.

The question of Sunday base ball also promises to cut quite a figure.

If you want the news read the Bee.

S.S.S. CURES SCROFULA
Mrs. E. J. Rowell, Medford, Mass., says her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S.S.S. after having had much other treatment, and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.
S.S.S. Cured my little boy of hereditary scrofula which appeared all over his face. For a year I had given up all hope of his recovery, when finally I was induced to use S.S.S. A few bottles cured him, and no symptoms of the disease remain. INHERITED SCROFULA
